EL TESORO '68

Les,

Good luck in your next years at Grayson. It was nice being in Tech. Drawing with you.

Have fun this summer.

Sherrie

May your expectation of your today become your reality tomorrow. It's been fun in T.D. Hope you can make it by yourself in T.D. 3-4. Have a great summer and I'll see you next year

Rally Commission Presents

Aragon's shy Rally Commission finally consented to pose for this picture following a meeting to plan the Hillsdale rally.

Aragon's active Rally Commission did much this year to create a unified, spirited student body. The commission, consisting of the cheerleaders, pompon girls, and other enthusiastic students, planned and presented exciting, interesting rallies. They were constantly busy painting spirit-evoking posters, encouraging students to attend Aragon's athletic contests, and, in general, keeping school spirit high.

A peppy duo of pompon girls, Diane Saunders and Sue Cohen, bring roars of approval as they carry the "Spirit Bottle" on to the floor.

"Hillsdale players", Tom Hart and Geoff Eisenberg, perform a somewhat unorthodox pass play during the Hillsdale football game rally.

Varsity Cheerleaders

Judy Ortega

Sherry Komisarek

Aragon's varsity cheerleaders this year produced the most spirited Student Body Aragon has seen in recent years. Through the introduction of new, exciting cheers, Aragon's vivacious six, led by head Sherry Komisarek and co-head Judy Ortega, evoked spirit unparalleled in the M.P.L. this year. After practicing all summer to learn new routines, the cheerleaders came back in the fall with a new approach to cheerleading which was readily accepted by the spirited Student Body.

Pom-Pon

Six Pom-Pon girls, elected by the student body, can often be seen in the halls and corridors practicing precision and timing. After months of summer and fall practice, Aragon's enthusiastic and peppy girls perform to all cheers and chants at football games. Pom-Pon girls are also an intricate part of each rally, as their red and black pom-pons add vivid color to their award-winning routines.

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders play an important part in keeping under-class spirit high by cheering for the future varsity athletic stars. This year's four were no exception and will probably appear as varsity cheerleaders next year.

Grid Classic Salutes Varsity Footballers

Block "A" members prepare the gym for the exciting evening to come.

Grid Classic '67, Block "A"'s dance salute to varsity football, was a smashing success. With clever decorations and effective lighting setting the mood for one of the Bay Area's exciting rock groups, a splendid time was guaranteed for all. Grid Queen Jeannie Greer and Princesses Shirley Barela and Janet Copes added a touch of lovliness that completed the evening's wonderment.

Spirit Dominant At Yuletide Fantasy

The sound of the Inmates filled the girls' gym on Dec. 15 as the Yuletide spirit did its work. Marianne Pratt's decoration crew had helped the holiday feeling through their Christmas tree, candy canes, and fireplace decorations. Santa, in the form of Mr. Grey, presented himself promptly at 9:00 to find out if the dancers had been good little kiddies this year. And so it lasted until midnight when the spirit was well on its way.

Dance Concert, 1968; "To Dance Is To Live."

On March 8 and 9 at 8 p.m., the curtain rose in the Aragon Little Theatre presenting the 1968 dance concert "To Dance is to Live.

Under the direction of Miss Carolyn Hall and student choreographer Donna Brown, the girls dazzled the audiences with creative and expressive dances such as "Peanuts", "Exodus", and "Flute Thing".

The fabulous dances were evidence of the girls' inspiration and long hours of dedicated practice.

Many Thespians Make Their Dramatic

On Nov. 30, Dec. 1, 2, 3, 8, and 9, 1967, YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU, Kaufman and Hart's classic comedy about an eccentric American family and their joyous philosophy of life, played to a pleasure-filled audience. Mollie Collison and Larry Hyink made their Aragon debuts, performing their major roles with distinction. The two actors who played the lovers, Laurie Brown and Paul West, managed to present the romantic aspects of the play well. Perhaps the most impressive result of the production was the discovery of many character-role performers-Debbi Mulloy, Roger Brudno, Anne Robertson, Greg Boyd, Dave Pope, Mark Goldstein, Stephani Head, Paul Feldman, Janet Cooper, Paul Harrington, and Jewelee Arney. So the 1967-1968 Aragon Drama Season opened with another successful comedy.

1984 Offers Terrifying Vision Of A

1984 is vision of a negative Utopia ruled over by the sinister Big Brother and the members of his inner party. The story is set in London, England, (now part of Oceania, one of the three great superstates) and tells of two people's fight against Big Brother and the inner party. The main character is Winston Smith, who is lured by the party in the person of O'Brian, into a relationship of love and trust that he knows must be fatal to him. In the end the party makes him betray his wife and co-conspirator, Julia, and finally himself. In turn he is betrayed by all whom he trusted. In the end he is defeated, and the frightening words of O'Brian, "The rule of the party is forever," haunt the audience as Winston Smith at last says, "I love Big Brother."

Festive Fun Nights Draw Huge Crowds

Until this year fun nights have been only for people who have had nothing else to do Friday night. But this year inspired new ideas have made the fun nights more attractive. With the addition of movies and better bands, attendance has soared. Almost six hundred students, for example, attended the Sophomore Fun Night to make it the most successful fun night in Aragon history. Fun nights are obviously becoming more fun.

Aragon's Exciting Marching Band During Half-Time

Displays Precision To Be Used Performances

This year's Marching Band, under the direction of Jim Hopfenbeck and the supervision of Mr. Revelli, gave two outstanding performances this year. The theme of the shows was "The Circus." The four-act extravaganza, began with The Parade, a symmetrical precision routine marched to the music of "I Love A Parade". Next came the elephant with the musical trunk that moved expertly to the tune of "Baby Elephant Walk." No circus is complete without its three rings, and the band's rings turned to the tune of "The Billboard March." Finally, four human cannonballs exploded to the music of "Thunder and Blazes" to conclude one of the Marching Band's best performances.

Orchestra Develops In New Directions

During the past two years the Orchestra has been stimulated by an addition of outstanding new members which has enabled it to develop its string section into a vital musical force. As a result, the group has met the challenge of difficult music heretofore unattainable. Their performances have brought excitement to their listeners. In addition to playing their own selections, the orchestra has accompanied the A Cappella Choir at the Christmas and Spring Concerts. The group also participated in the CMEA Festival for the first time this year.

A new ensemble came into being at Aragon this year--the String Quartet. It requires the most skillful musicianship with its great demand for excellence in phrasing, nuances, tempo, tone quality, ensemble, and attention to musical detail. The boys in the quartet have met this challenge to form a superior aggregation which has added a touch of variety and excellence to all of the programs.

New Voices Spark Vocal Groups

The A Cappella Choir membership this year included a higher-than-normal percentage of new voices. Progress of the group was rapid as evidenced by a highly successful performance schedule during the Christmas season. In addition to the Christmas concert and assemblies, the choir sang at luncheons, for the Lions' Club, and at the St. Bartholomew Church Ladies' Luncheon. Activities for the second semester were high-lighted by the annual Spring Concert and C.M.E.A. Music Festivals, where they continued to uphold their reputation as one of the top high school choirs in the Bay Area.

Besides sharing in the success of the A Cappella Choir's activities, the Madrigal Singers appeared as guests at other functions at Christmas time and in the spring. A new activity added this year was Christmas caroling in the stores of Hillsdale and in residential areas. In upholding its fine reputation of former years, the Madrigal Singers continue to be a vital link in public relations with our community- its sound exemplifies the high achievement of our students at Aragon.

Marianne Pratt, Debbie Hubbard, and Gail Glasson hurriedly type their stories to meet the dead line.

Room 319 was the center of much thinking, writing, typing, and proof reading this year as the small Aristocrat staff, under the direction of Mr. Drobac, interviewed the students to obtain their opinions. The letter to the editor also proved to be a popular new feature this year. Then after the paper rolled off the presses, it was time for the bi-monthly party. With music, dancing, and fine foods, the 'Crat staff rested their weary minds and bodies.

Cosmopolitan Atmosphere Created By

Everybody has a secret dream--mine was to be an Exchange Student. I can not believe that this could have ever happened to me but I hoped, I tried, and here I am. There are six thousand miles between my other parents, another school, other teachers; other friends have adopted me for this year. I wish more students from Aragon and from all the schools all around the world could have this chance to live such a great experience and find the same great people and warm hospitality that I did. Mr. Allen, teachers, and students, I just would like to say "thank you" for making this part of my life so new, so different, so exciting and unforgettable.

Marc Soufflet

Last June I sailed from New York aboard the AFS ship the "SS Ryndam" to Rotterdam and began the most exciting summer of my life. I arrived in Zwolle and met my Dutch family, the Doeksens, and my sister, Janny. We shared many experiences-camping, biking 70 miles to their summer home, touring the country, and having wonderful times. During my summer I attended conferences, a reception at the American Embassy in the Hague, and other AFS functions.

AFS provided me with a marvelous opportunity to see how others live and think. I would like to thank Mr. Allen, the teachers, and members of the AFS committee very much for making my summer possible.

I have learned so much and enjoyed my year at Aragon High School--the intricacies of algebra, new ideas of design in art class, very exciting political working in American government class, beautiful poems in speech class, and working with the photography club. . . These are such beautiful memories for me.

I am thankful to Mr. and Mrs. Jennings, my American family; to Mr. Allen, our Principal; and to the family of Aragon. And thanks to my counselor, Mr. Marchi, and the teachers who have helped me.

Block A Represents Sportsmanship

Twice a year, Block A society sponsors an awards night in the little theater for the hardworking athletes who have participated in the various sports at Aragon. For participating in sports, athletes get various blocks- red, black, white, and gold. Once a month the Block A sponsors a fun night for boys who belong to the Block A Society. Without the help of advisor Mr. Wilcox, these fun nights, which allow the athletes to participate in sports would not be possible.

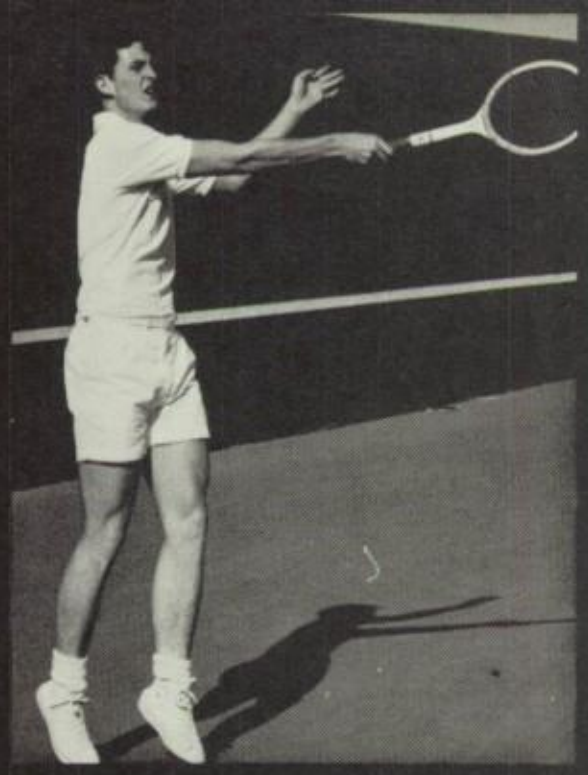
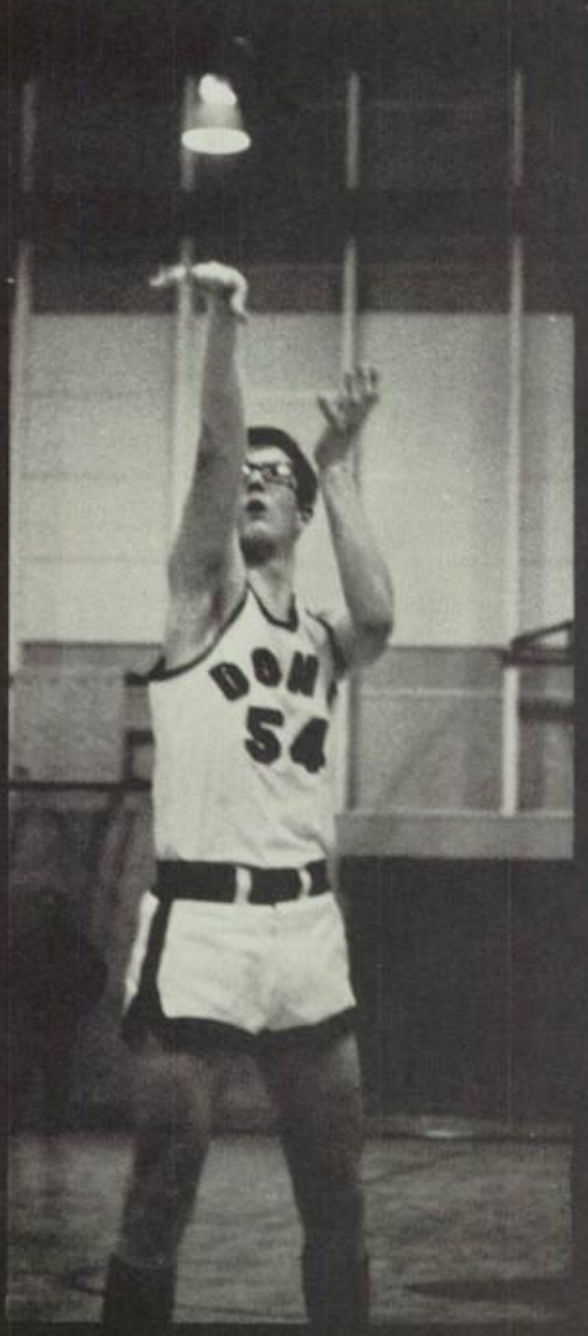
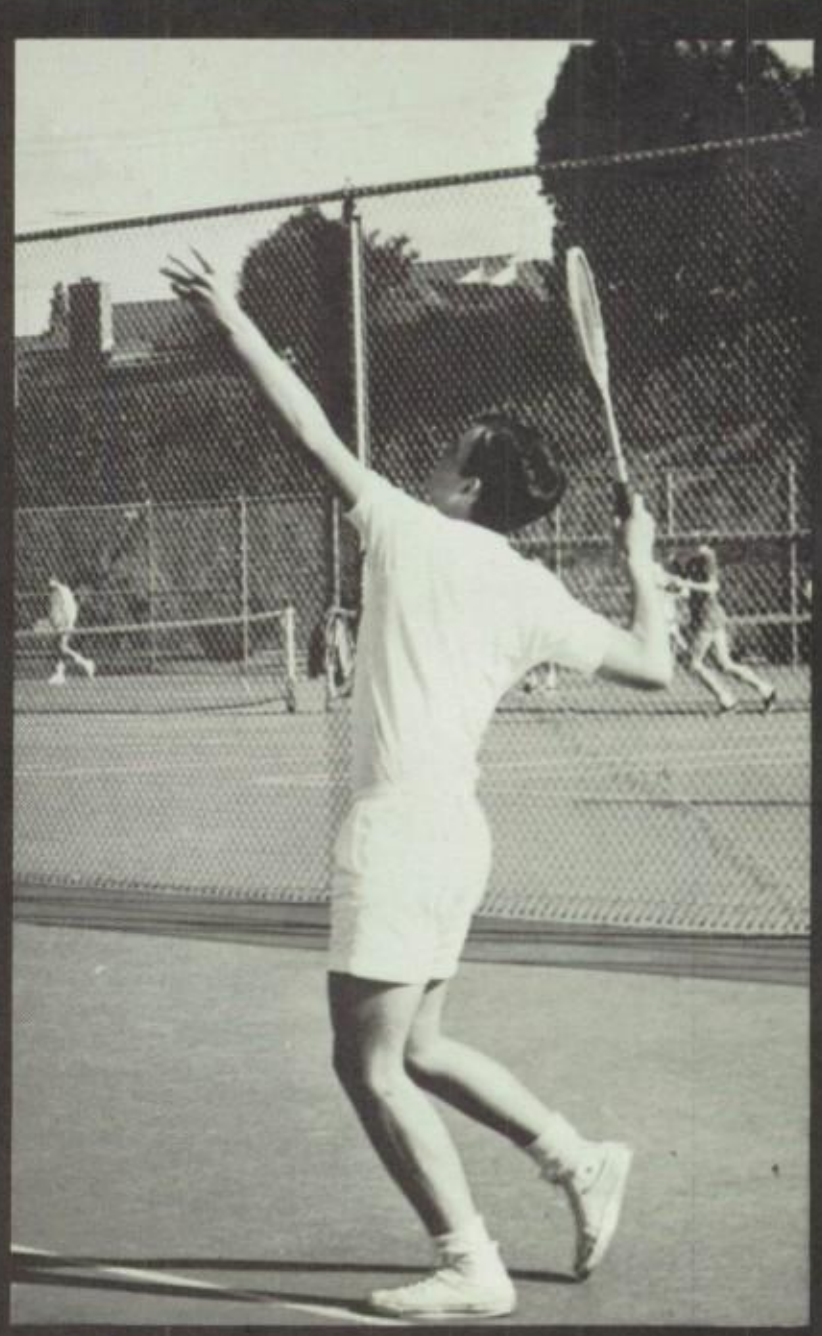
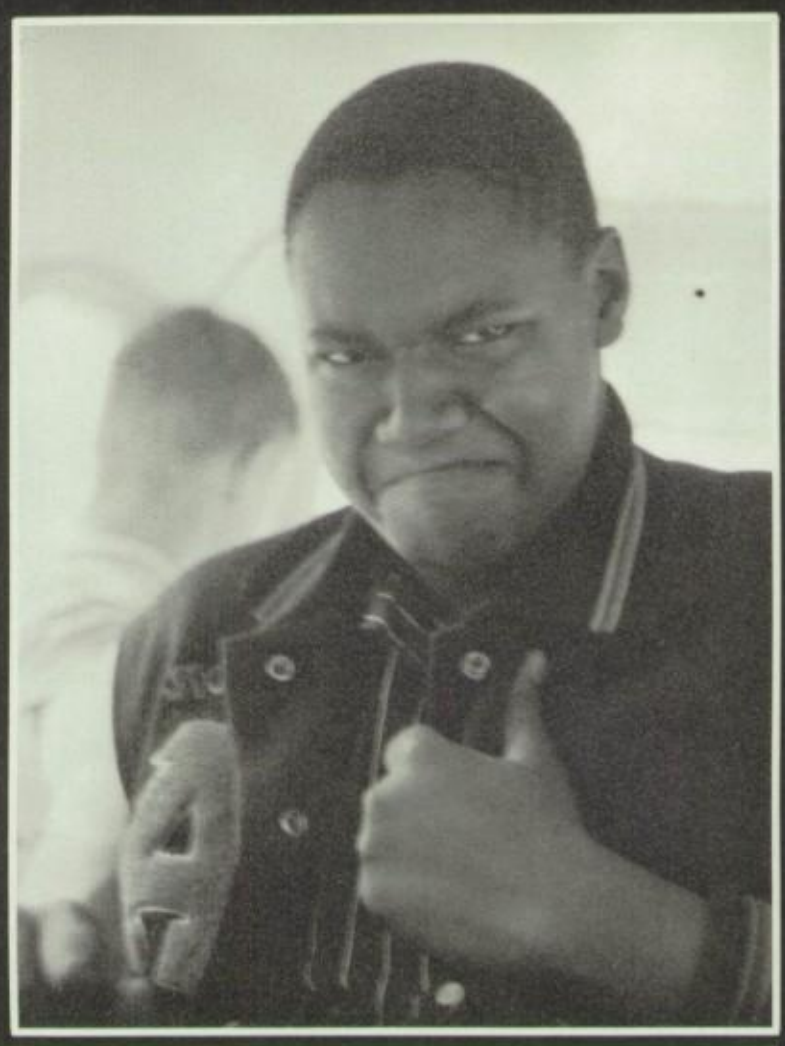
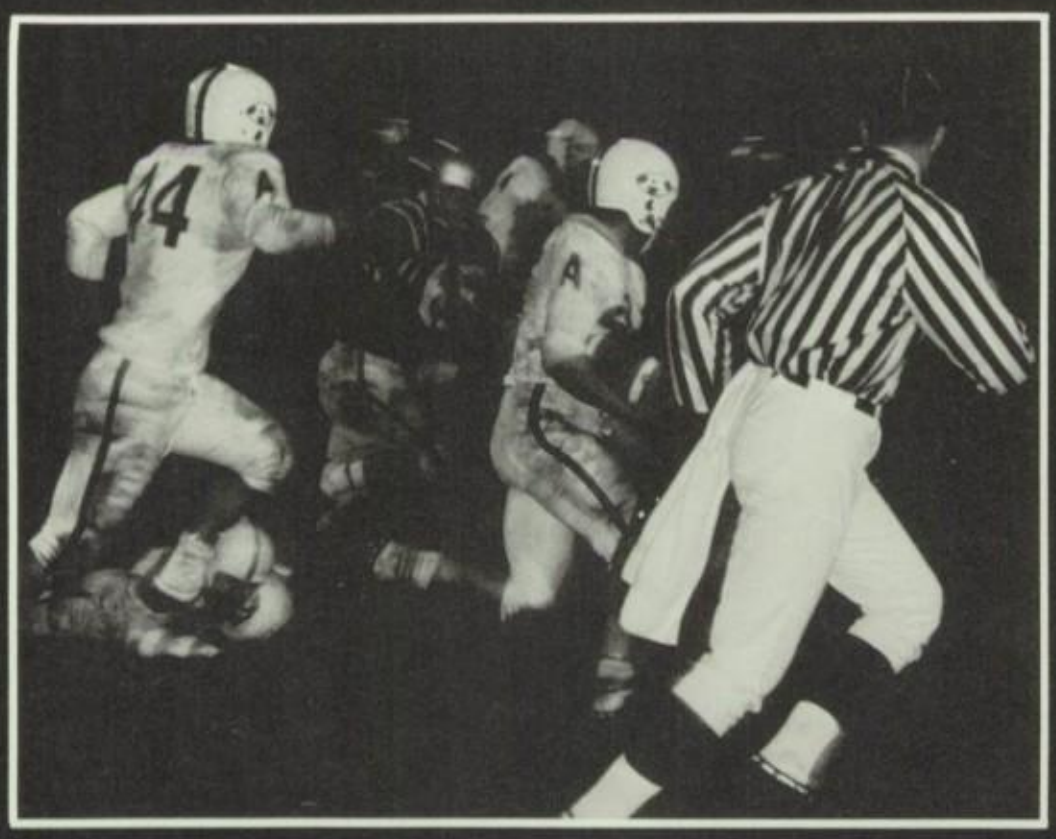
SPORTS

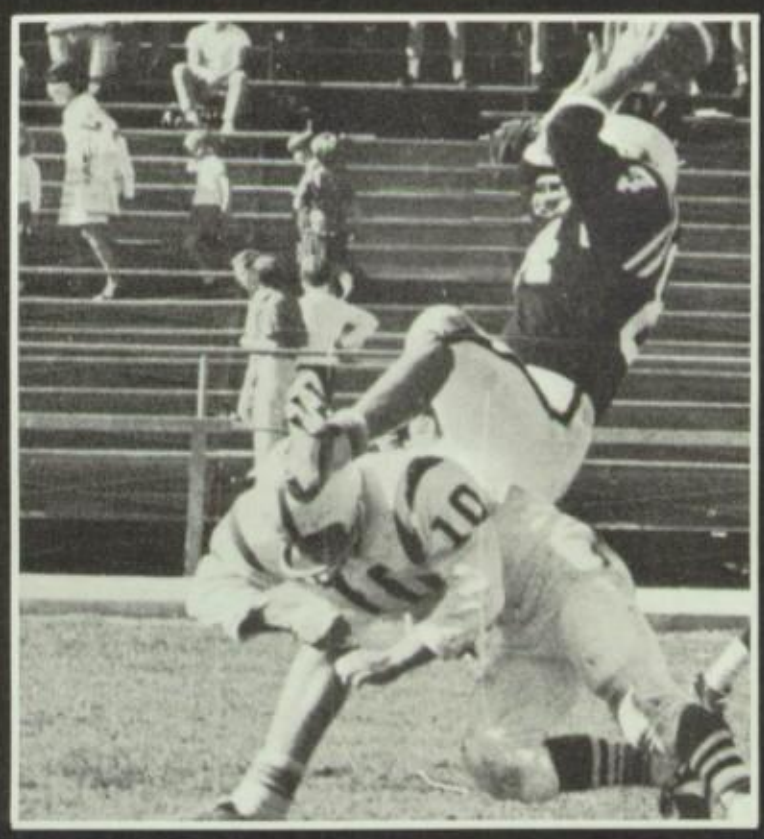












Big Game Win Brightens Grid Season

Aragon's varsity football team finished the 1967 season with a gratifying and well deserved 14-6 victory over perennial rival, Hillsdale. Due to some disputed calls by the referee and some tough breaks, Aragon lost close games to Burlingame and Capuchino in the last few seconds. The season was highlighted by a dramatic ninety-yard run after an interception for a touch down by Bruce Nelson during the Hillsdale game.

The Dons, coached this year by Gene Gorden, Charles Polk, and Harold Huffman, established themselves as a fine defensive team; in fact, Aragon's defense finished second in the league. The Dons received fine performances on defense by all-league honorable mention John Clabaugh at safety and Don McHarg at defensive end. On offense this year, Aragon got fine performances from quarterback Dave Ankele and halfback Barry Schreckengost. The Don's suffered this year when their most productive runner, Bob Burmeister, was forced out of action by a shoulder injury. Since most of this year's starters were juniors, prospects look bright for next year.

Example For Winless Frosh Gridders

There was a real contrast of results this year between the Sophomore and Freshmen teams. The undefeated Sophomore team was coached by Harold Huffman and Mike Ottmeyer. Along with quarterback George Fohner, the sophs had such standouts as Bob Cook and Chris Allen in the backfield and Bob Patch on the line. The relatively inexperienced freshmen were under the watchful eyes of Robert Grassmeyer and George Bolin. The winless frosh got fine performances all season long from fullback Mike Elliot, halfback Ross Takahashi, and defensive lineman Rick Patch.

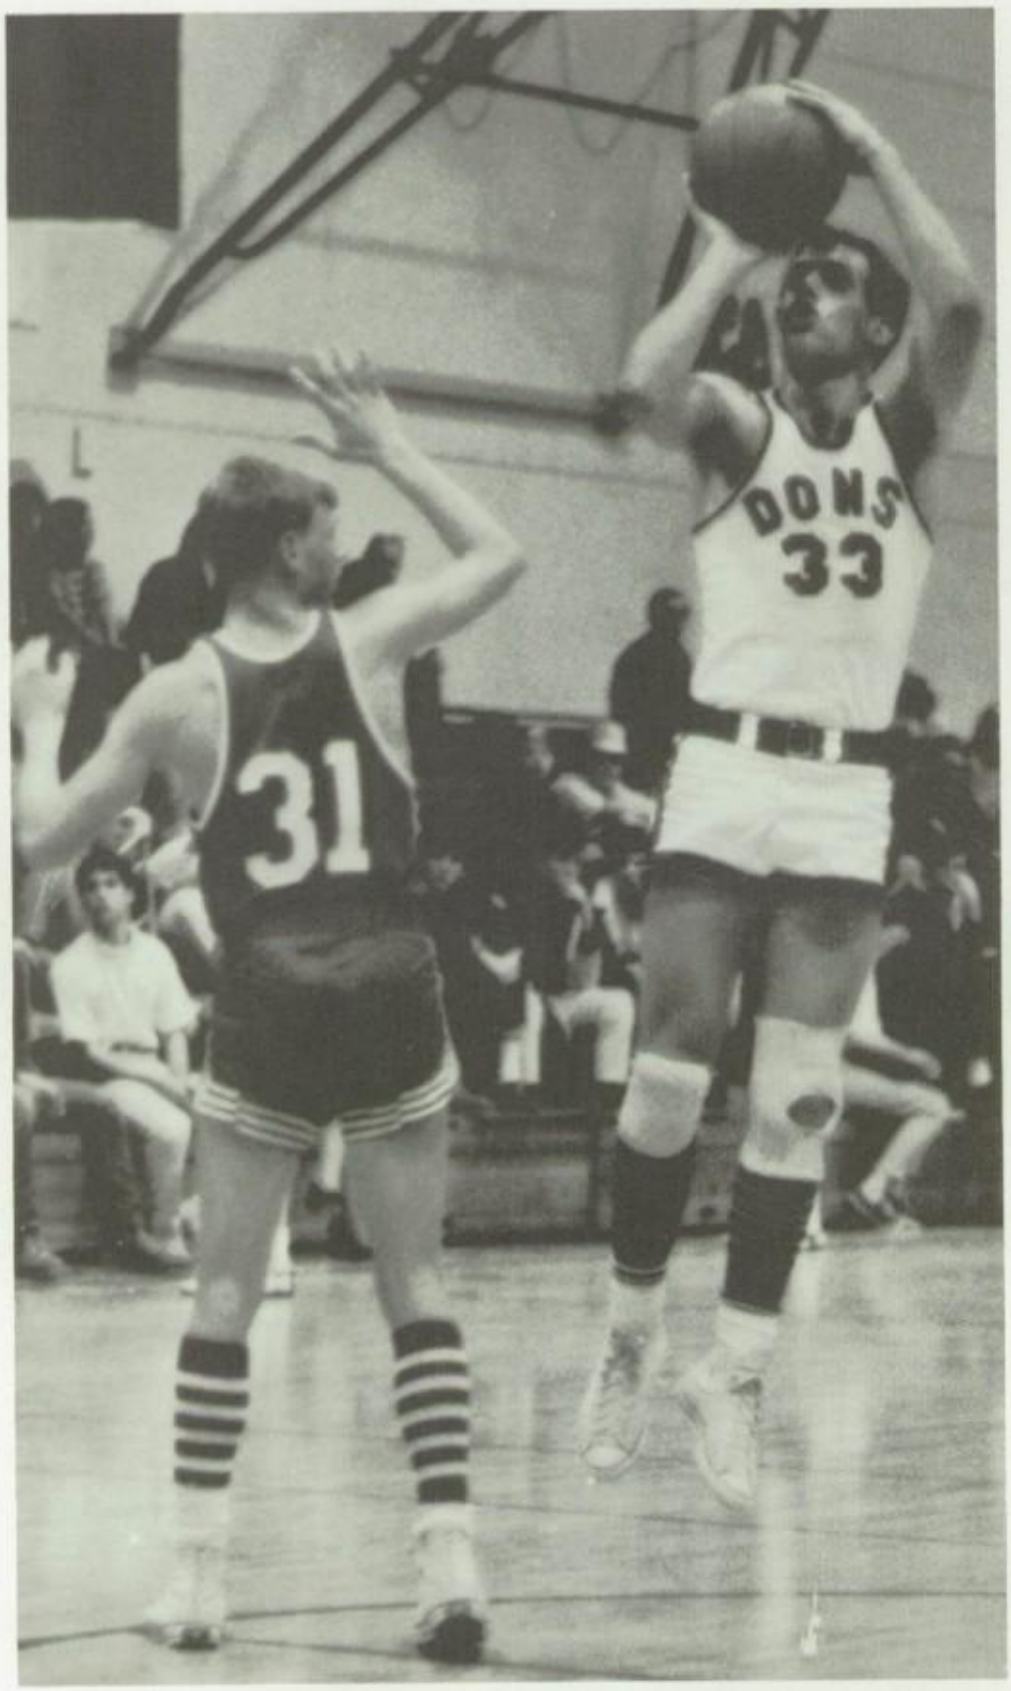
Dons Finish Third After Slow Start



Casey Young shoots a jump shot over his Burlingame defender.

In the last pre-season game, Aragon carried a one and seven record to Serra's home court and beat the Padres by two points. That game set the pace for the regular season.

After upsetting Capuchino in overtime, the Dons rolled to an easy victory over Crestmoor. Hillsdale was a different story, but the Dons came back with a conquest of Mills and a brilliant come-from-behind victory over favored Burlingame.

Led by the steady play of Mark Murphy, Casey Young, and Keith Lumbard, the Dons entered the season finale at San Mateo with a 7 and 4 record. A sparkling 25 point performance by Bill Rasnick and a superb team defense gave the Dons their first victory in the San Mateo "pit" in four years, and enabled them to end their fourth straight season with an 8 and 4 record.

Coach Ed Diaz accomplished the seemingly impossible task of bringing the team from a last place pre-season rating to a third place finish. But also to be commended are the players who made it possible. For their efforts, Bill Rasnick was named to the all-league team while Casey Young and Mark Murphy received honorable mention.

Three All-Mid-Peninsula Leaguers

This year's Frosh-Soph Basketball team, coached by George Hall, compiled an impressive 8-4 league record for third place in the final MPL standings. Led by MVP Jim Romey, the Dons came through in many tough situations to give Aragon rooters many a thrill. The Dons received added scoring punch from All-Leaguers George Stevens and Bob Cook. Aragon also had fine board strength in sophomores Rich Hoover and John Lyman.

"C" And "D" Teams Display Surprising Strength

In his second year as coach of the light weight basketball teams, Mr. George Hall produced two highly successful teams.

Bill Lewis and Kelvin Kojimoto, two of the leagues top ten scorers, led the "C" team to an 8 and 4 record, second in the league.

Led by Freshmen standouts Frank Riordan, the leagues leading scorer; and Kurt Peterson, the number four scorer, the "D" team compiled a 9 and 3 record, also finishing second. In their first encounter the "D" team broke San Mateo's 35 game winning streak, and ruined their otherwise perfect season.

Swim Team Strives To Defend Title

Aragon's Varsity Swim Team, defending Mid-Peninsula League Champions, seems again to be the most powerful team in the league. Led by "super-sophs" Chris Allen and Tad Hubbard, and transfer Ron Coates, the Dons feel that they will again rise above all comers and emerge with the championship banner flying high above Aragon.

The Frosh-Soph team, under the watchful eyes of new coach Mike Doody, will strive to better last year's fourth place finish. Standouts on the Frosh-Soph include Steve Godwin, Gary Moore, and Geoff Ledell.

Outstanding Individuals Spark High Hopes For Aragon Cindermen

For Coaches Bill Daskarolis, Hal Huffman, Bill Larson and Jack Jones, beating San Mateo is the biggest hurdle for the Aragon track team to get over this year. Quarter and half-miler Fred Klinger, tops in the MPL, along with fellow Seniors Gene McVay and Larry Cretan brightens the Dons' hopes of reaching the State Meet in May. Sophomore hurdler Bob Cook, weightmen Mike Boschetti and Brent Blaisdale, and 'B' runner Phil Dattola add further depth to Aragon's reputable track team.

Golfers Tee Off To Championship

This year the Aragon Golf team promises to be a very impressive one. With probably the most experienced varsity in the league, the Dons feel that this is their year for the championship. This year the Dons will have a six-man varsity composed of two-year lettermen John Klein, Tom Hart, and Hinton Williams, one-year lettermen Gary Zatkin, and Dennis Emerson, and impressive newcomer Bruce Robertson.

Wrestlers Rally At The Finals

Plagued by injuries, the Don's wrestling team were able to manage only a two-win and four-loss league record. A last minute upset over heavily favored Burlingame put the Don's in contention pending the finals. First place victories by Joel Anderson and undefeated Alfie Raubitschek, a second by Ross Williams, and thirds by Jim Buzan, Larry Eichner, and Buz Stewart vaulted Aragon ahead of Cap and Burlingame for a third place finish. Late season performances by Kiyoshi Shigemoto were also a boon to the team.

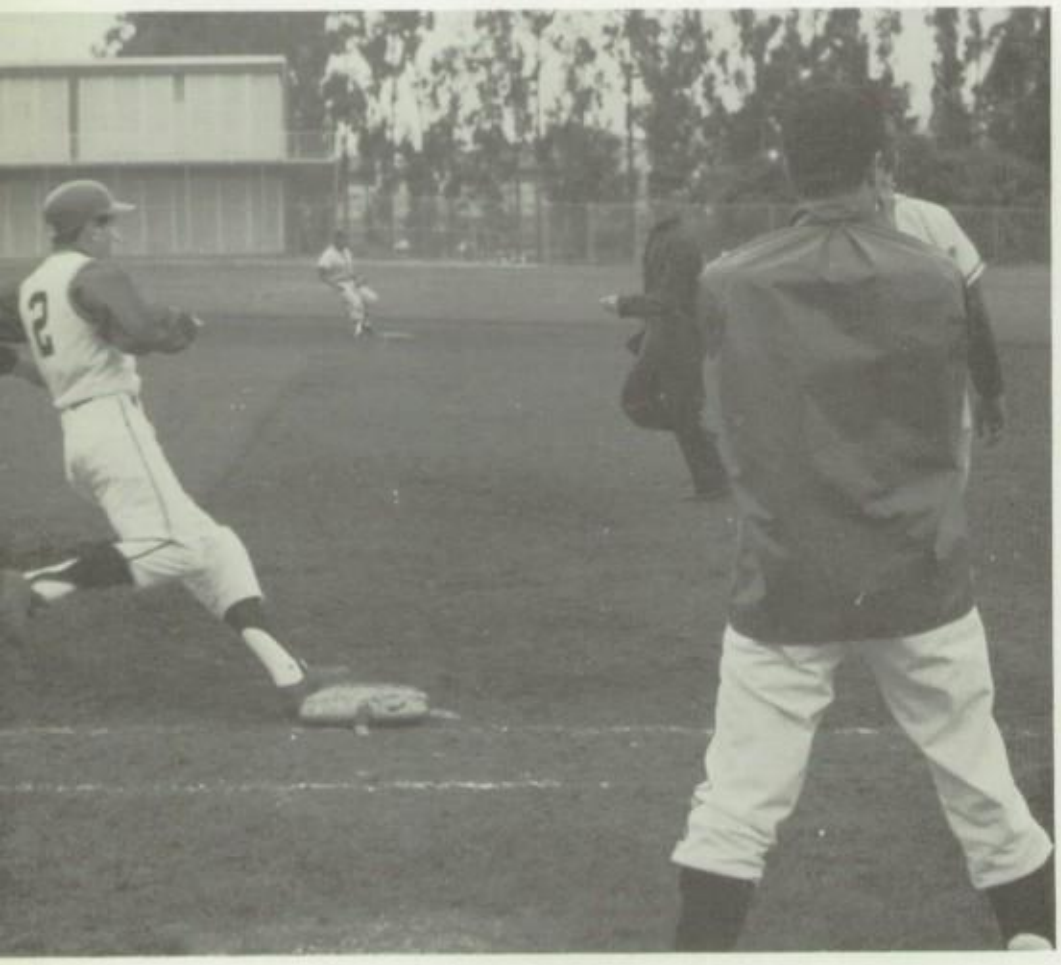
X-Country Season

For the second year running, Aragon's cross country team produced several strong runners and an outstanding Sophomore. Seniors Dan LaVerne, Gene McVay, and Alan Potter ran well for the varsity team and Randy Greuning did a superb job for the Sophomores.

The team's dual meet record was a mediocre two wins and four losses. Nevertheless, in the regionals, Randy Greuning placed second and, in the finals, he placed first in the Sophomore division, while Dan LaVerne placed in the varsity division.

Barnaby Feder and Charles Stocking keep the pace as the race nears the end.

Baseball Prospects Look Promising



All eyes are on Mike Gillespie's hit as he rounds first base.

This year's Varsity Baseball team has its brightest outlook in years. With John Clabaugh healthy again; and Bob Dierkes, Bob Ellison and Mike Gillespie returning; and a host of strong hitters up from the Frosh-Soph, Aragon has a fierce offense.

To complement its hitting power, the team has its largest pitching staff ever with six pitchers. Three of them are returning from last year making it an experienced staff. This year's Varsity is well balanced and should be in contention for the league title.

1968's Frosh-Soph team, led by five returning sophomores and a crop of excellent freshmen, is rated highly in the pre-season predictions. With four strong pitchers and a host of fine hitters, the Frosh-Soph team also boasts a well balanced attack.

1968 Aragon's Gymnastics Team Off To

Clyde Burch makes a struggling attempt at the parallel bars.

Mr. George Wilcox, coach of the 1968 boy's gymnastics team, predicts that this year the Peninsula Gymnastics League will prove to be very competitive. This year Capuchino rejoined the league which includes Hillsdale, Mills, San Mateo and Aragon. Some of the well known senior gymnasts on the team are Greg Partridge on free exercise, Clyde Burch on Trampoline, and Pete Shigemoto on all-around. There are also a number of outstanding sophomore and freshman gymnasts.

Netmen Show Improvement Over 1967

Though there were no outstanding players on the 1968 tennis team, a good, strong nucleus of five players formed an adequate team for this year's competition. Coach Ed Diaz received repeated fine performances from seniors Tim Wells, Keith Lumbard, Joel Geddes, Peter Hsu, and junior Jim Grainger.

Girls Tennis Team Holds League Title

Winning first place title in the San Mateo Union High School District inter-school competition, the Aragon Girls Tennis team, coached by Miss Kathy Collins, demonstrated excellent form and technique in all of their matches. Star players Judy Tallett, Pam Garlington, and Lynn Garrison led in the singles division while Carol Gilmore and Karen Tremain captured the first place title in the doubles division.

Sixth Perfect Year For Girls Swim Team

Swim coach, Mrs. Anderson, reviews the rules before the meet gets underway.

Concluding their sixth perfect season, the Aragon girl's swim team won overwhelming victories in each meet. Twenty-five points was the smallest margin of victory achieved by the Aragon swimmers. Under the guidance of their coach, Mrs. Cheryl Anderson, several girls improved immensely during the season. Especially notable improvements were shown by Sheri Hansen, Gail Ford, and Melanie Peterson. Performing in spectacular fashion again this year, underclassmen Robyn Turner in the butterfly, Betsy Blaisdell in the breaststroke, Lori Swalwell in the freestyle, and senior Debbi Rumer in the breaststroke swam to victory in almost every meet.

Girls Basketball Team Shows Fine Style This Season

Stronger than last year, the Aragon Girls Basketball Team had many more victories this year. One of the reasons for the sudden win-loss record change could be that many capable players that didn't play last year because there was no sixth period P.E. for girls, turned out for the team this year.

Girls Gymnastic Team Gains In Size And Skill

Aragon's Girl's Gymnastics Team has doubled in size and increased in skill compared to last years team. The team has attended one clinic, two dual meets, and one district meet this year and some of the girls attended a clinic over the Christmas holiday. The team competes on trampoline, the balance beam, the horse, tumbling and in free exercise.

Girls Volley To Win Many Matches

Coached by Mrs. Doerksen, this year's Girls Volleyball team had a very successful season. They beat most of their opponents by large margins. Some of the outstanding players on this year's team were juniors Monique Paerl, Karen Tremain, Lee Ann Guenther; sophomore Hope Maugeri; and senior Patsy Lopez.

Fall Student Body President

"If anything should be remembered as happening during my term of office, it's that student government was called upon to be the actual representative of the students. Hopefully, it was a successful bargaining agent; in other words, I was a useful tool of the student body."

Bruce Mayor

Spring Student Body President

Concerning Aragon - "I hope that someday it will become an institution of understanding, rather than an institution of learning.

The problem in our world today is the lack of understanding. People are unable to know others because they do not know themselves. Someday we may all be as honest and conscientious as we say others should be. Only then will we be able to unite and help our brothers all over the world; I feel this is the task of our generation."

Barney Feder

"Student Court had to cope with a new problem this year, that of the split lunch. This problem was successfully solved by appointing another court, headed by Barry Vann. Aside from the lunch problem, Student Court ran quite smoothly this year."

David M. Hayashi

"Beyond the duties which being Secretary naturally employ, I especially enjoyed the chance to know the administration and faculty better, and to meet new friends. It's a pity that more people don't realize that they can accomplish their desires if they only care enough to act."

Roberta Glidden

"The financial status of Aragon this year was beautiful. Supposedly, school spirit was lacking the first part of the year, but there was no indication of this money-wise. Thanks to unexpected incomes, it turned out to be a fine year for student activities."

Ramsey Worman

"Students should organize for power. It is only through the organization of their overwhelming numbers that they can gain the rights and privileges that they desire."

Larry Hyink, Spring Vice-President

"Student interest in the school and its activities is rapidly dying out. This has been caused by a combination of split scheduling, poor activities, and over restrictive policies of the school. It has been my goal to help improve these conditions before Aragon evaporates with the rising sun."

Brian Harvick, Spring Secretary

"The main objective was to curb the litter problem that made Aragon look like a dump. I hope that I have helped strengthen Aragon's Student Court and create a strong communication line between the Court, Order Commission, and Dean.

Fall Student Council Attacks Litter

When not handicapped by discussions of parliamentary procedure and meaningless legislation, the fall student council managed to pass several important bills. Litter on campus was the main target of this legislation.

Student Court And To Combat Litter

Fall Student Court and the Order Commission initiated a program to alleviate the problem of litter on campus. Reforms included increased issuance of citations and stiffer penalties for convicted violators. It became obvious, however, that these measures were not sufficient, and as the semester ended, litter was still a major problem.

Order Commission Unite On Aragon Campus

As the Spring semester began, Order Commissioner John Klein and Chief Justice Reed Scott faced the litter problem head on. They urged only truly interested people to join the commission, and ambitiously attempted to encourage these members to cite ALL violators. An "Untouchable" squad, emulating Eliot Ness's famous brigade, was even formed as an unprecedented number of citations were issued. Student Court also became effective by issuing penalties severe enough to discourage future violators. By mid February littler was virtually obliterated from Aragon, and two student organizations had demonstrated their ability to function effectively.

"Halloween masquerade a huge success! This, like the other Senior Class activities has given spirit and unity to the Class of '68. At the Cap football game, $60 was earned and added toward every Senior's dream, the Senior Ball. On the agenda for the remainder of the semester are two activities bound to give the Senior Class a reputation not soon forgotten. First, before one of the basketball games there will be a spaghetti dinner. Secondly, the Senior Class will put on an unusual fun-nite. All in all, the Senior Class has led and will lead the charge for a more exciting and vibrant Aragon during the first semester."

"The second semester was not only a success for the Junior Class, financially, but we also experienced fun and learning (in that order). We came into the semester as the richest class, we spent money, and still came out ahead. Due to the enthusiasm of the class and the officers, working together on our Prom and money making activities, we were able to produce new ideas and new activities, thus breaking the boredom at Aragon."

Spring Junior Class Council

Soph Class Builds Funds

"Unable to get various money-making ideas approved the first quarter, the fall Sophomore Class Council finally made several accomplishments the second quarter. We had a concession at the Aragon-Hillsdale basketball game. We also sold spirit buttons for the basketball games. A funnite was arranged for the beginning of the second semester on February 16th."

"Our class has had a very successful semester, making money for future events, such as the Junior Prom and the Senior Ball. The most prosperous project was the funnite "High Times". It featured the band, Time, and a light show by the Grandall Productions. This event made over $350 for the Sophomore Class. A carwash which was more or less rained out was also held."

Freshman Class Councils Make Plans

"During the first semester, the Freshman class council tried to raise money. Because it was their first semester, most of their plans were never fulfilled. But they did have a successful bottle drive. Next semester, the council plans to have a funnite and a car wash."

For Their Future Activities At Aragon

"Being a freshman creates a problem in itself. There is an unwritten rule that all freshmen are incompetent, unreliable, and just plain not too bright! We, of course, know that we could never change this rule, but rather we accept it as a challenge to show that we're all not that bad maybe just some of us. As a council we are planning a number of events, which we hope will be more successful than our glorious bottle drive. Nothing is quite definite as yet, but you can be sure before the year ends, the freshman will strike again."

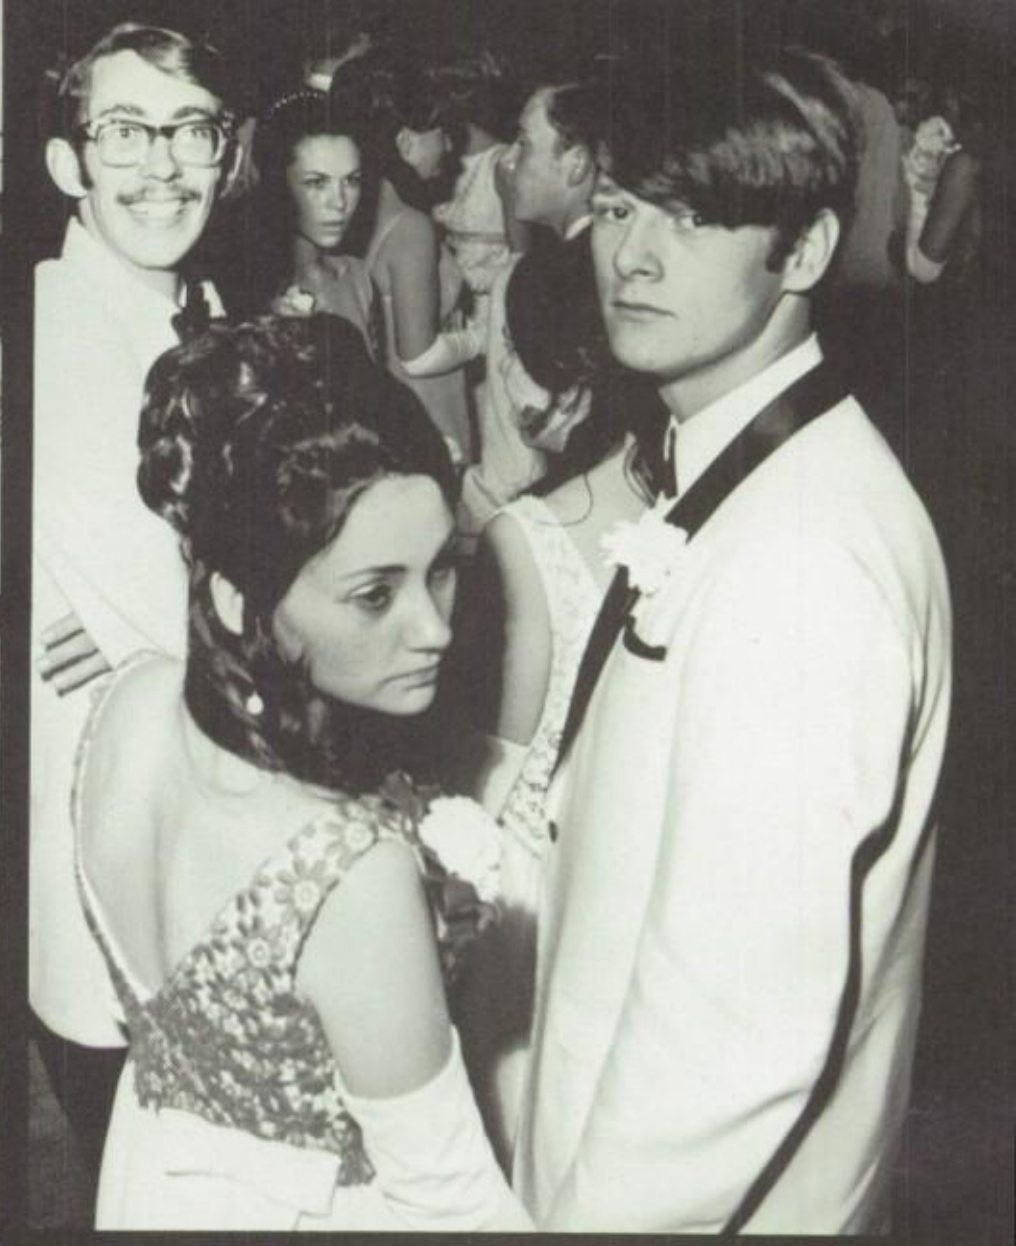
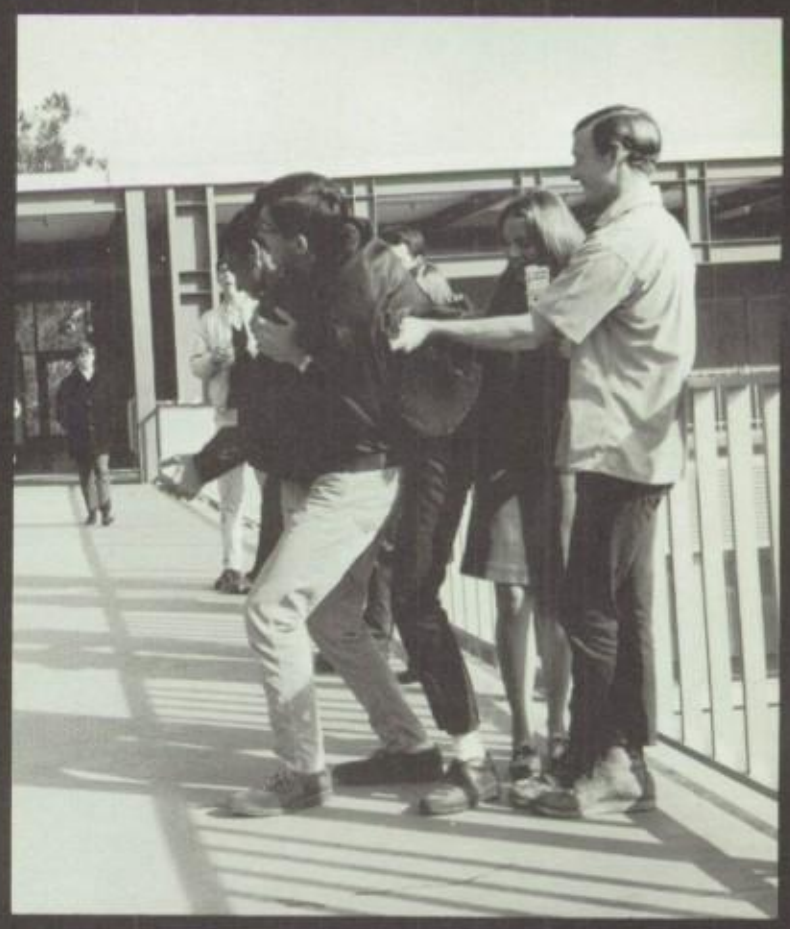
SENIORS





Fabulous Costumes, Frolicsome Contests

Spark Original Senior Privilege Day

Because the Senior Bow Day was cancelled this year, the seniors petitioned for and received a Senior Privilege Day. On October 31st seniors attended school in costume. Dressed in everything from 1900 bathing suits to Shirley Temple curls, the seniors frolicked in the true Halloween spirit. Given the use of both lunch hours, seniors assembled in the inner court to romp on the lawn. Wheelbarrowing, pyramid building and leap frogging delighted the seniors and amused the rest of the school.

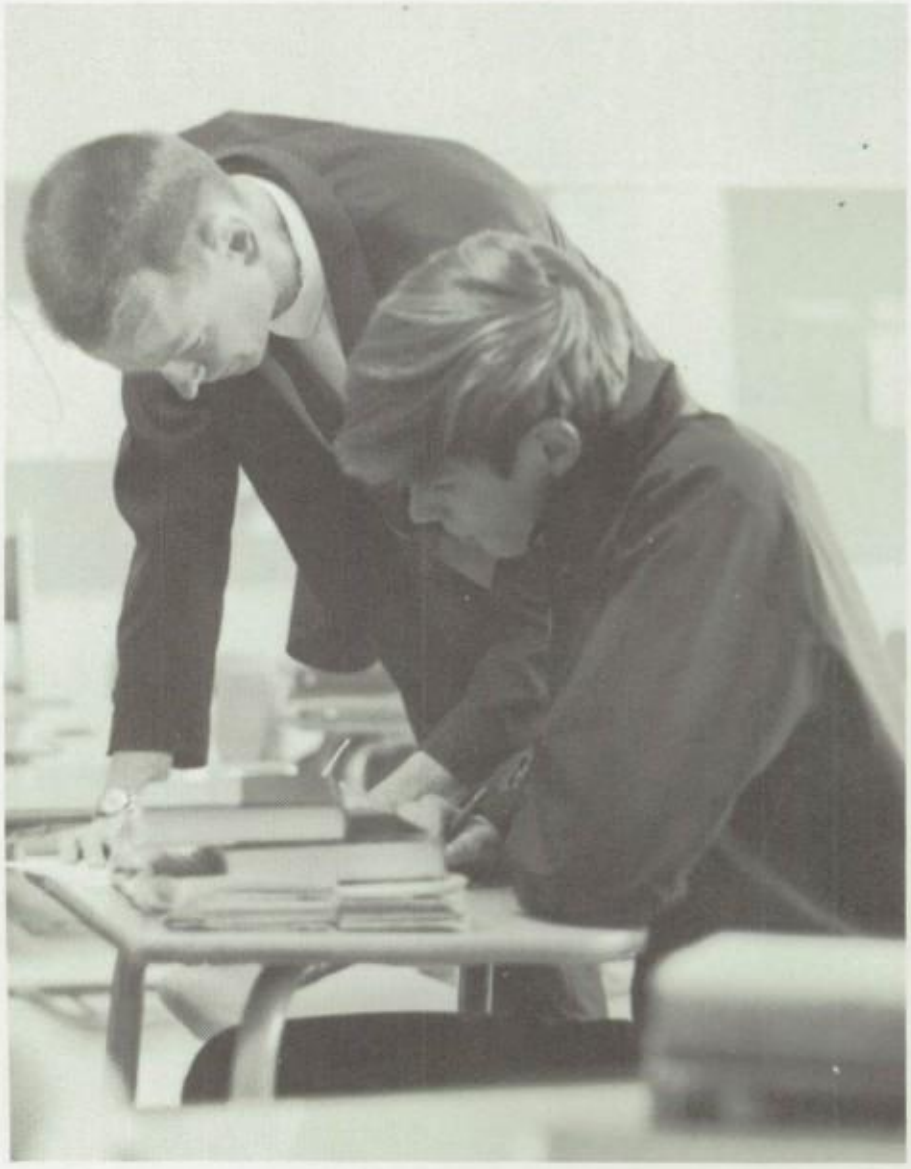
Aeospace Uses Interdisciplinary Plan

Paul Likens and Mr. Mahaffy struggle over a problem.

Aragon's Aerospace program provides a technical background in aerospace and an introduction to the many career opportunities in aeronautics. It is a two year interdisciplinary course including aero English, aero math, aero lab, aero science, and preflight. Another course, Introduction to Aerospace, is open to all students in grades 10-12, but the basic aerospace course is open only to juniors and seniors.

One very important part of the Aerospace program is the interdisciplinary approach to teaching. By using this approach, the instructors are able to relate one course to another, and the students are able to find immediate application to their learning.

Because of the Bay Area's innumerable industries based on Aeronautics, many field trips were planned for this year, including trips to the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey Center, the United Airlines Maintenance Base and Service Center, the Stanford Linear Accelerator, the San Jose State College aeronautics division, and NASA's Ames Research Center.



Automotive Part Store Operated By Students

A relatively unknown part of Industrial Arts is the Automotive Part Store operated by students. By running the store the boys learn all the technicalities involved in operating a small business. Advanced students also get the chance to do live work such as tuneups and brakework on the cars left by the faculty and students of Aragon, who can buy parts at a 30% discount.

Many competitions are entered by the different classes. The Metals and Woods classes enter a statewide competition. The Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest is a nationwide competition entered by Auto Shop students.

Art, Commercial Art Classes Stress

As other students look on, Mr. Rianda gives beauty hints to Judy Ortega.

"And this is the way you do it. . .," explains Debbie Puccinelli to her classmates.

Donald Crawford-California College of Arts and Crafts. "Know yourself. Strive toward a goal which involves you, your interests and your ability."

Henry Rianda-San Jose State. Mr. Rianda doesn't give advice because, "Who would listen?!?!"

Newer Techniques

New Techniques and ideas are constantly being tried out in Aragon art classes.

In the first year of art, students learn drawing, painting and color techniques. Second year art students practice these techniques. Art problems are presented to third and fourth year students, who proceed independently with their project.

First year craft students are introduced to various sorts of crafts, mainly ceramics and jewelry. Then in second year crafts, the students select a particular area, such as ceramics, to work in.

Package and product designs, cartooning, layouts and lettering are new areas of study added to the Commercial Art classes this year. Commercial Art classes also do school advertisement for a minimum fee. Any extra money the class earns goes into a fund for a scholarship, which will be awarded to some art student at the end of the year.

Students Provided With Skills And Experience

Students taking business courses are not only provided with business skills but are also given a chance to apply them. The course Office Practice, gives students job experience through working in the school offices. Work Experience offers students opportunities to work in outside firms while receiving a salary and school credit. Students have also been helped to find full time jobs after graduation. Two new courses will be added to the curriculum -- Filing and Your First Job. Both are two unit courses. Another addition to the program will be three laboratories where students will be provided with facilities to practice their typing, shorthand, and office machines.

Appreciation Of Environment Developed

"Science at Aragon offers experience in a wide range of science discipline to all students. The appreciation developed for the role of science in man's relationship with his environment will aid him in his daily living and possibly in a choice of a profession," stated Mr. William Larson, department head.

The student's experience with laboratory-oriented courses should give him confidence that will stimulate his interest in science and research. Upgraded equipment, particularly in the fields of Electronics, Biology and Earth Science, has enhanced the laboratory segment in each field.

The Science department sponsers the Science Club, Chemistry Study and Aero Tech Physics.

Mr. Johnson expounds to his students the mysteries of Chemistry.

Eagerly awaiting the return of their teacher, Earth Scientists compare notes.

ROBERT BRANDEBERRY- San Francisco State. Self-examination does not always overcome self-delusions. Talk things over with your teachers."
DIANE DOLWIG- University of Washington. "Life and even school can be fun. Enjoy life and concentrate on the interesting side of things."
HAROLD FEARON- U.C. Berkeley, Boudoin.
HAROLD HUFFMAN- L.A. State, U.C.L.A.
CARL JOHNSON- Duke University. "You have an excellent school here. Take full advantage of the opportunities offered. You will always look back at Aragon with fond memories."

Safety Ed Classes Emphasize Attitude

Every day students are being picked up for traffic offenses, some minor and some more complex. Because many of these traffic offenses are the result of poor driving attitude, building up good driving attitudes is the main emphasis of Aragon Safety Ed classes.

Safety Ed is a semester course. For the first quarter, students spend one-third of their time in the classroom, one-third of it actually driving, and the other one-third in the simulator. In the driving simulator, students are put into actual driving situations by watching films on a screen at the front of the trailer. The second quarter is spent informing students of the dangers of Smoking, Drugs, Narcotics and Alcohol. Home and Community Safety and First Aid are also taught. Teaching devices include lectures, films, discussions and some student research.

"Now, these machines aren't playtoys," says Mr. King, as he explains the functions of the simulator to the students.

Kathleen Collins-San Francisco State. Miss Collins has decided that Aragon has "too many students and machine lunches."

Sonja Doerksen-North Dakota State University. Aragon, "in the autum. A time of reunion, a time of endless new activities and plans to be carried out with crisp fresh energy."
Carolyn Hall-University of Maryland. "Plan ahead. Don't do anything now that you'll be sorry for later."
Audrey Harrison-University of California.

Girls P.E. Offers Varied Sports Program

Girls P.E. Department emphasizes individual sports as well as team sports. Rhythmics, gymnastics, softball and basketball are among the sports the students participate in.

Modern Dance classes culminating in the Spring Concert are a special part of the P.E. Program, meeting two periods a day.

This year seventh period P.E. and after-school competitive sports were combined again. Students who are in seventh period P.E. are automatically enrolled in after-school sports.

George Wilcox-San Francisco State.

Boys P.E. Introduces New Program

Soccer, waterpolo, golf, handball, wrestling, and weight training are just a few of the many activities offered to a student during his four years at Aragon. Each of these activities is divided into a basic, intermediate and advanced area.

A new program which is being tried out by the Boys P.E. Curriculum this year is called "Life Time Sports." The emphasis of this program is learning sports which may be used as sources of fun and exercise during and after high school. Students go to regular P.E. classes three times a week and on Thursday and Friday go to their selected "Life Time Sport" either bowling, archery or volleyball. Skin diving and bait casting were introduced during the spring semester.

Boys P.E. also sponsors the 500 Club and Boys Athletics. The 500 Club consists of those students who score over 500 points on certain physical fitness tests. The top twenty scoring students then belong to "The Gold Trunks." Boys Athletics include after-school training and competition with other schools.

Foreign Language Teachers Observe

This year the Foreign Language Department has attracted more students than ever. About 54% of the student body was enrolled in language classes at the beginning of the school year.

Since more students than ever have been studying a foreign language and completing a third or fourth year of the language, the department tries to make the classes as interesting as possible. Mr. Eakin, head of the Language Department, says that the teachers are trying to make language learning an enjoyable experience.

French, Spanish and Latin--all four year courses--are offered to students. Learning the rudiments and structure of the language is the main emphasis of the first two years. The third and fourth year classes spend their time using the language by writing original compositions and by reading stories in the original language.

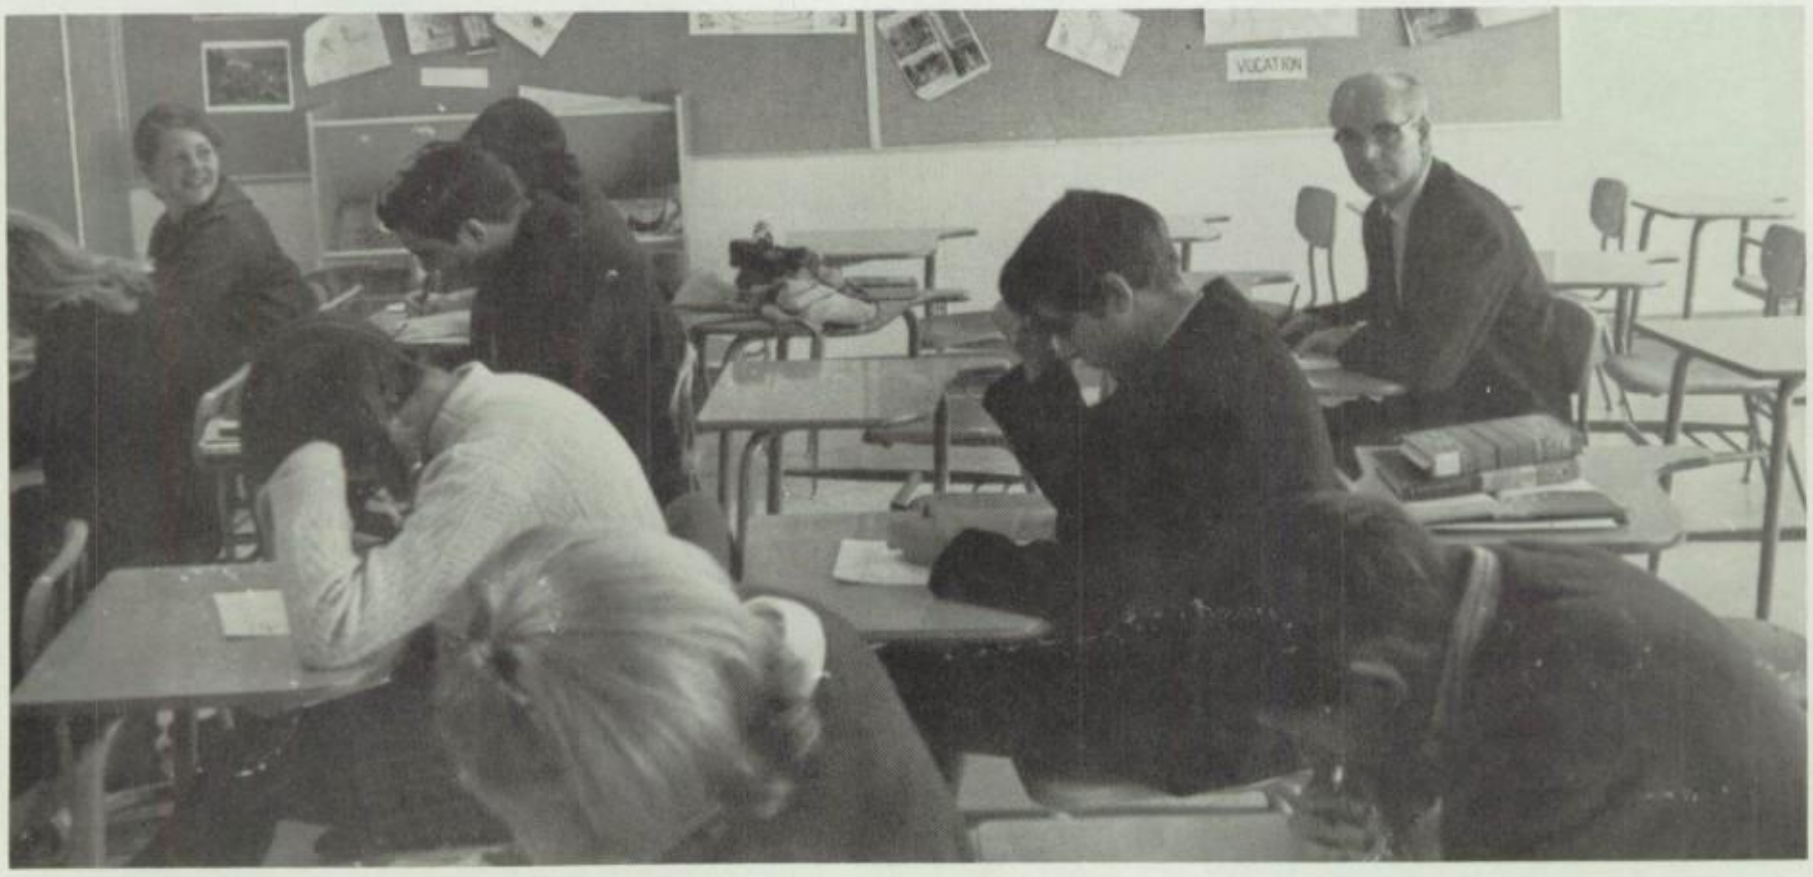
Increased Student Interest In Language

DAVID EAKIN-University of Oregon. "Amusezvous!" (Have fun!)
JUDY COTTER-Stanford. "Quien canta, sus males espanta." (He who sings, scares his troubles away.)

ILSE GLUCKSTADT-Middlebury School of Languages. "Life is like a road. Sometimes it goes up, sometimes it goes down."
JOSEPH LEDDY-San Franciso State. "Amor omnia vincit." (Love conquers all.)
RICHARD MOLD-UCLA. "The farther away from home you go to college, the better will be your education."

GAY SWENSON-UC Berkeley. "Take a trip to Paris (you meet the most interesting people in museums!)"
GRACE THOMAS-Pomona College. Her comment on Aragon's interior, "The students are great, but the campus often looks like a giant garbage can. 'Every litter bit...', you know."
JEAN WHITMAN-University of California. "No me 'buggy' pas!"



Students show concentration in various ways on a Latin test given by Mr. Leddy.

Math Courses Are Revised To Reach

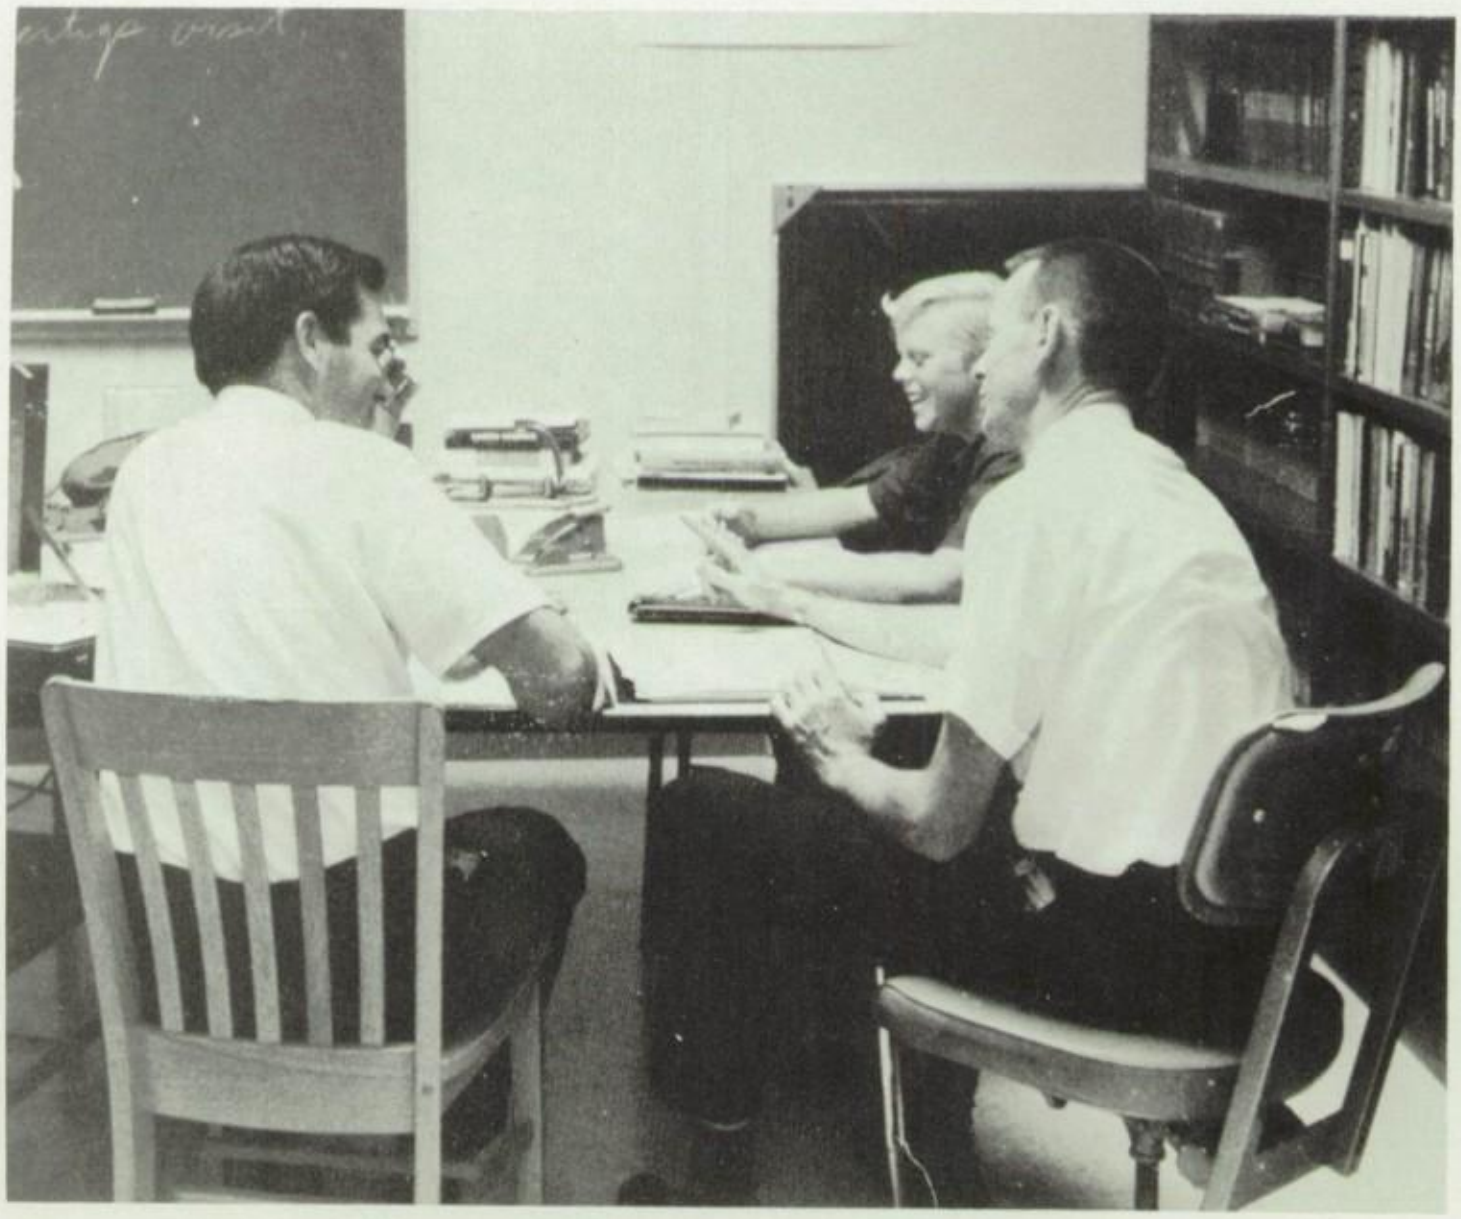
According to Mr. Robert Brandeberry, math teacher, "There are two kinds of youngsters, those who are going to college, and those who are not. Our main objective is to reach those who are not." These students are being reached through Mr. Brandeberry's Basic Math class.

Experimentation in large and small group instruction has also been taking place in college-oriented courses. Sixty Algebra students and sixty Geometry students take part in this program, with lectures and problem-solving sessions occurring on alternating days. Next year's program will be expanded to include improved Math courses for the student who is not college-bound.

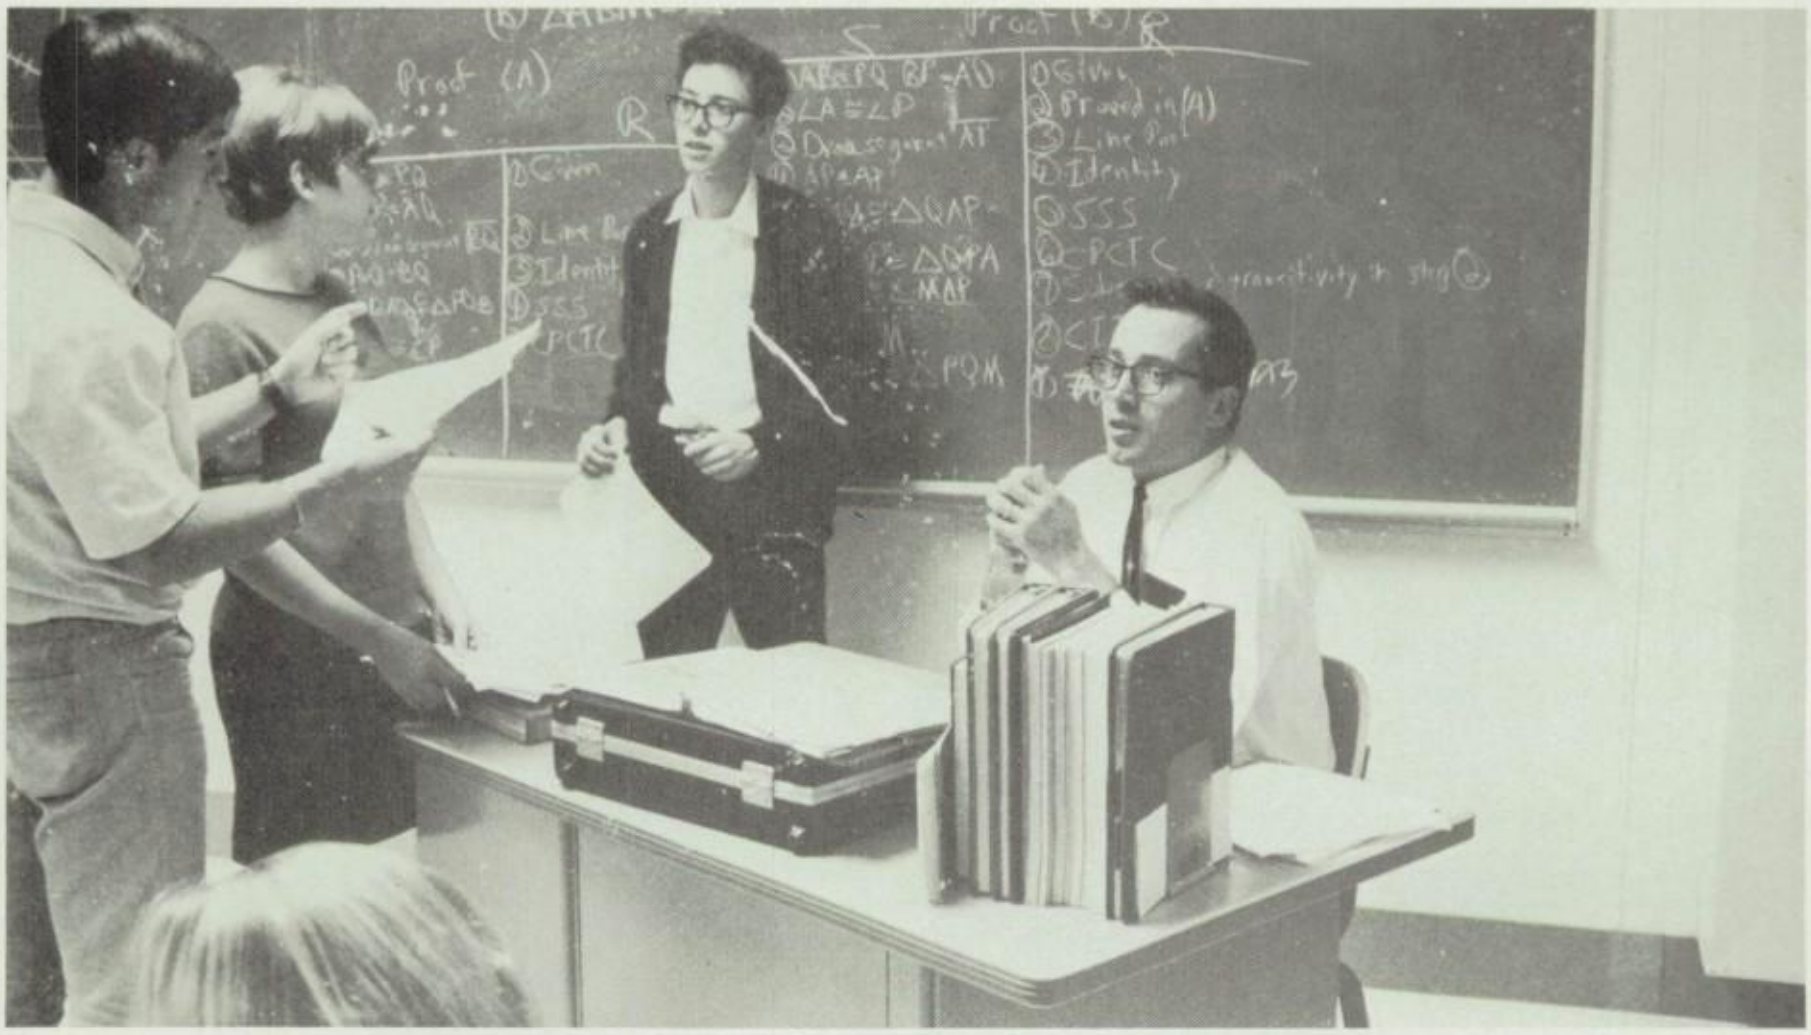
Other Math courses offered include Algebra 3 and Trigonometry, Algebra 4 and Math Analysis, and Aerospace. There are also two youngsters taking Calculus at C.S.M.

Mr. Anderson finds that even his Algebra class can teach him something.

Mr. Mahaffy and Mr. Grassmyer take time out to give personal attention to Mike Young.



More Students In Non-College Courses



Dave Pasternak finally points out that Mr. Rossi can make a mistake.

JOHN MAHAFFY- California, Harvard. "One of the best high schools in the U.S.A."
CHARLES BENNETT- Iowa State Teachers College, Drake University. "Aragon is a beautiful, swinging school, which seems to be constantly trying to find the best way of doing things."
EARL CONNOLLEY- San Jose State. "Study!!"
ROBERT GRASSMYER- Rutgers University.
DONALD ROSSI- University of California, Harvard. Mr. Rossi thinks Aragon is an "outstanding" school.

Social Science Stimulates Enthusiasm

World Geography is a required subject for freshmen, stressing the study of various cultures of man.

Juniors are required to take U.S. History. Classes meet in the Little Theater for films and lectures. Once a week these large classes break up into seminars of ten to fifteen students, for debates and discussion. The teachers try to teach history from different perspectives.

"Getting involved" is the main emphasis of senior classes in American Government. Meeting in the Little Theater, government classes elect officers, divide into political parties and with the help of the teachers, plan to set up a model government. Besides setting up a model government, the students receive lectures from teachers.

In World History, an elective, teachers stress the importance of understanding our society and its relationship to other societies, past and present.

DONALD HILL- Harvard. "Smile, care, love, trust, and give society a foot in the pants."
WILLIAM DRANSFIELD- San Jose State.

JAMES DUNSTAN- San Francisco State. "Don't give other people advice," is Mr. Dunstan's favorite advice to students.
HARRY EAGAN- Stanford. Mr. Eagan describes Aragon as a "happening."

JOHN GLANCY- San Francisco State. "Don't trust anyone over thirty-especially me."
PAUL GRAY- Stanford. "People who dare to be different are America's greatest resource."

JAMES HERBINAUX- San Francisco State. Aragon is "a fine middle-class school where the boys are skinny and the girls are fat."

LAWRENCE HYINK- University of Wisconsin. He advises that "everyone should have his own bag."

PETER LAWRENCE- Cal Poly (San Luis Obispo). "Always remember-women are attractive-but inferior."

DAN LACY- Stanford. "The major obstacle is yourself."

JANET RUSSELL- Stanford. "'Teckers' Rule. . ."

"Heh, heh, kids, "laughs Mr. Lee, "that's real cute, but not in the classroom."

BARBARA BILEK-Clarke College B.A., Indiana Univ. M.A. Miss Bilek warns, "Remember: You learn something new everyday--if you're not careful." To Miss Bilek "Happiness is teaching at Aragon."

RICHARD BELL-San Francisco State, UCLA, UCB. Mr. Bell advices students to "Project!" He thinks of Aragon as a "Noble Experiment."

MARTHA CAMPBELL-Univ. of Oregon. Miss Campbell who is very favorably impressed by Aragon says to remember, "Free inquiry is blocked by the idiotic certainties of ignorant men."

PETER DROBAC-Univ. of Calif., Univ. of Oregon.

KATY FARQUHARSON-Dickinson College, Denver Univ. Miss Farquharson thinks she'll stay at Aragon and adds, "The Doctor is in; 5¢ please."

PHILIP FISHER-San Francisco State. Mr. Fisher says that, "In the final analyses we are all headed for the same place--it is HOW we get there that counts."

GEORGE HALL-San Francisco State. Mr. Hall finds it wise to "Prepare now for changes to come." He thinks Aragon is a school with exciting potential.
WILLIAM KERSNAR-San Francisco State, Stanford. Mr. Kersnar advices "This is your school. Keep it clean. Don't drop Dixie cups on the lawns. A clean campus bespeaks tidy minds."
JERRY KEUTER-College of Idaho, Univ. of Oregon.

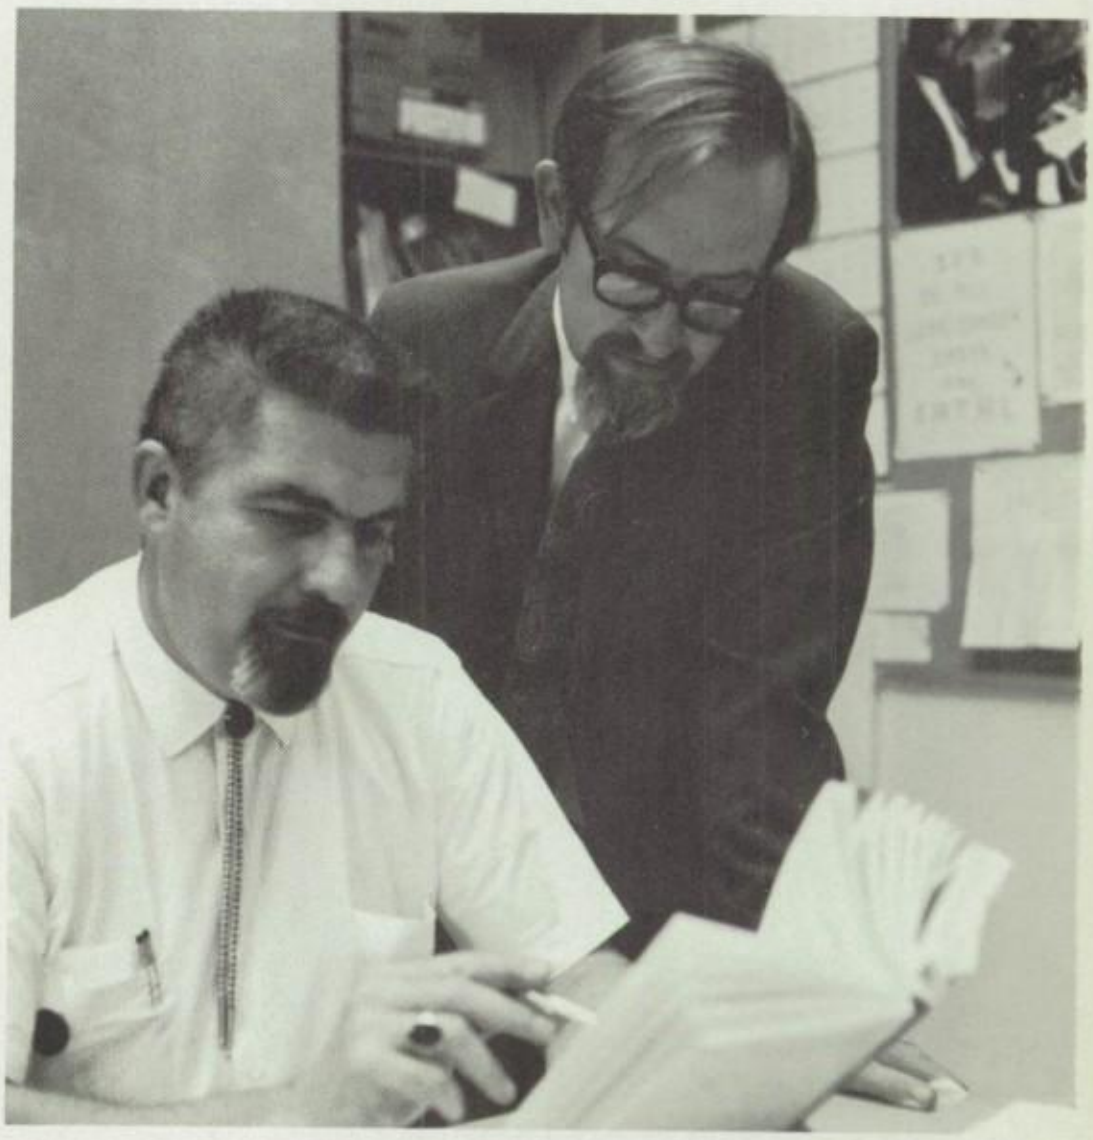
ROBERT KNEES-Brown Univ., Univ. of Wisconsin.
JACK LEE-Chico State, Univ. of Calif., Harvard. Mr. Lee advises to, "Enjoy yourself-but learn something along the way." He finds Aragon, "An outstanding school, the students are interesting and provacative people.

English Department Offers Diversified Program

In its diversified program, the English Department attempts to teach basic fundamentals of communication and also to examine challenging and interesting problems of man as seen through literature. The program places an emphasis on grammar, composition and literature.

In addition to the required English courses, a wide variety of electives is offered. Humanities, Developmental Reading, Speech, and Drama are among the courses open to the student's selection.

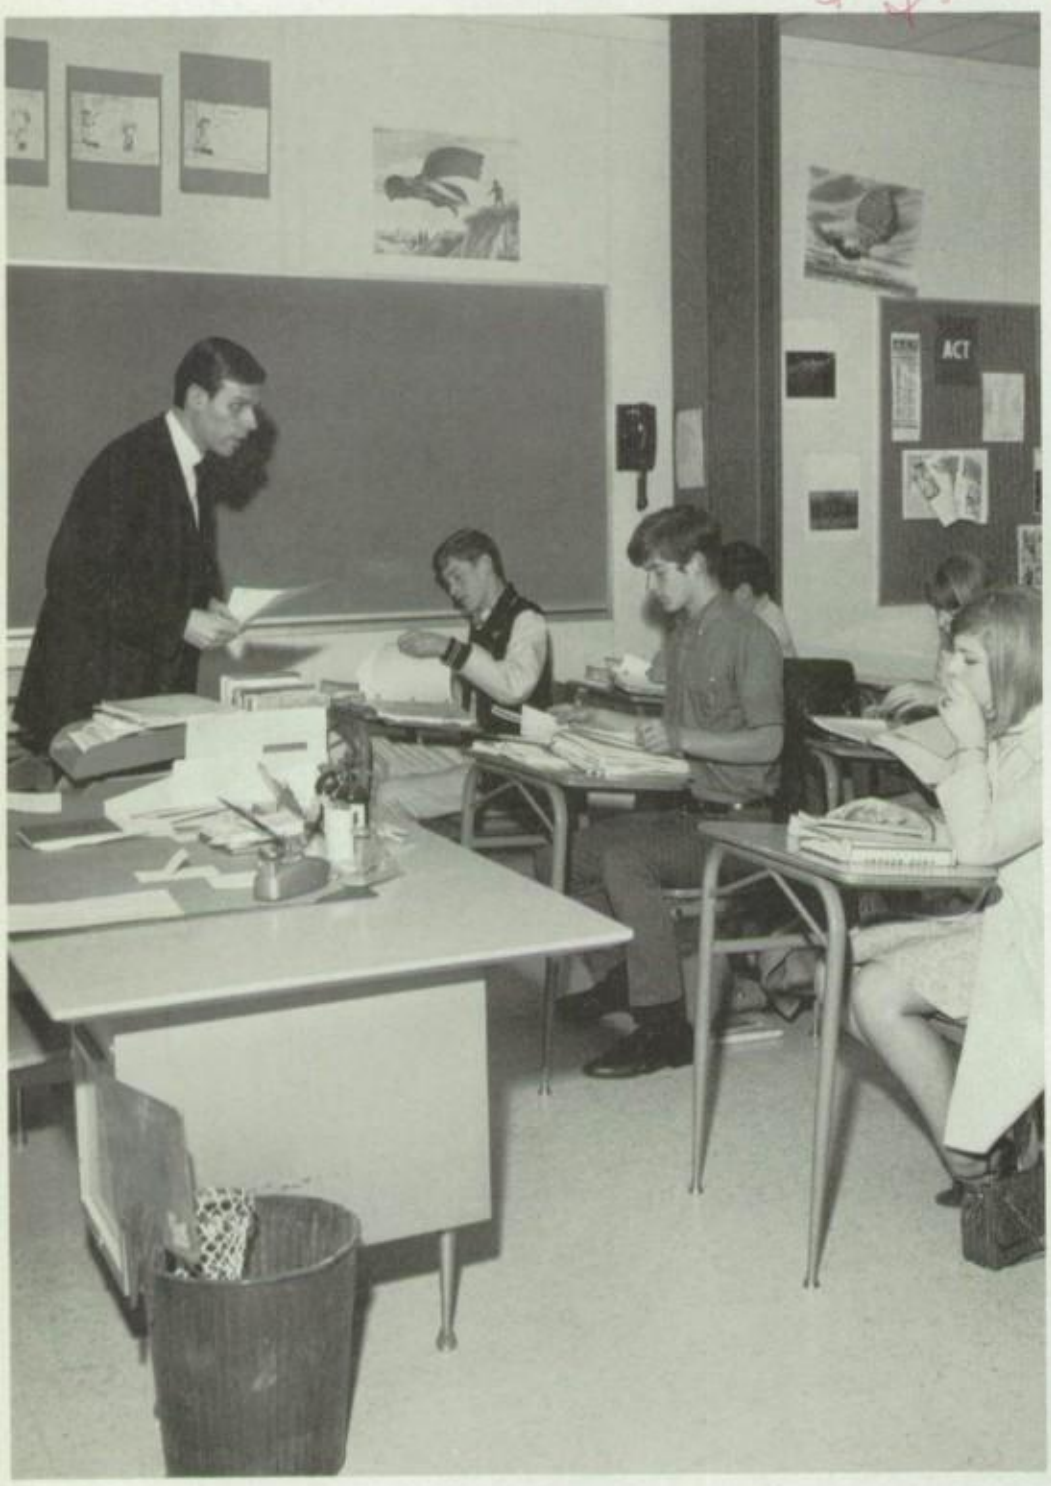
With the coming of flexible scheduling, the department will use team teaching as the primary teaching method. New courses added for the coming year are Creative Writing and T.V. Production.

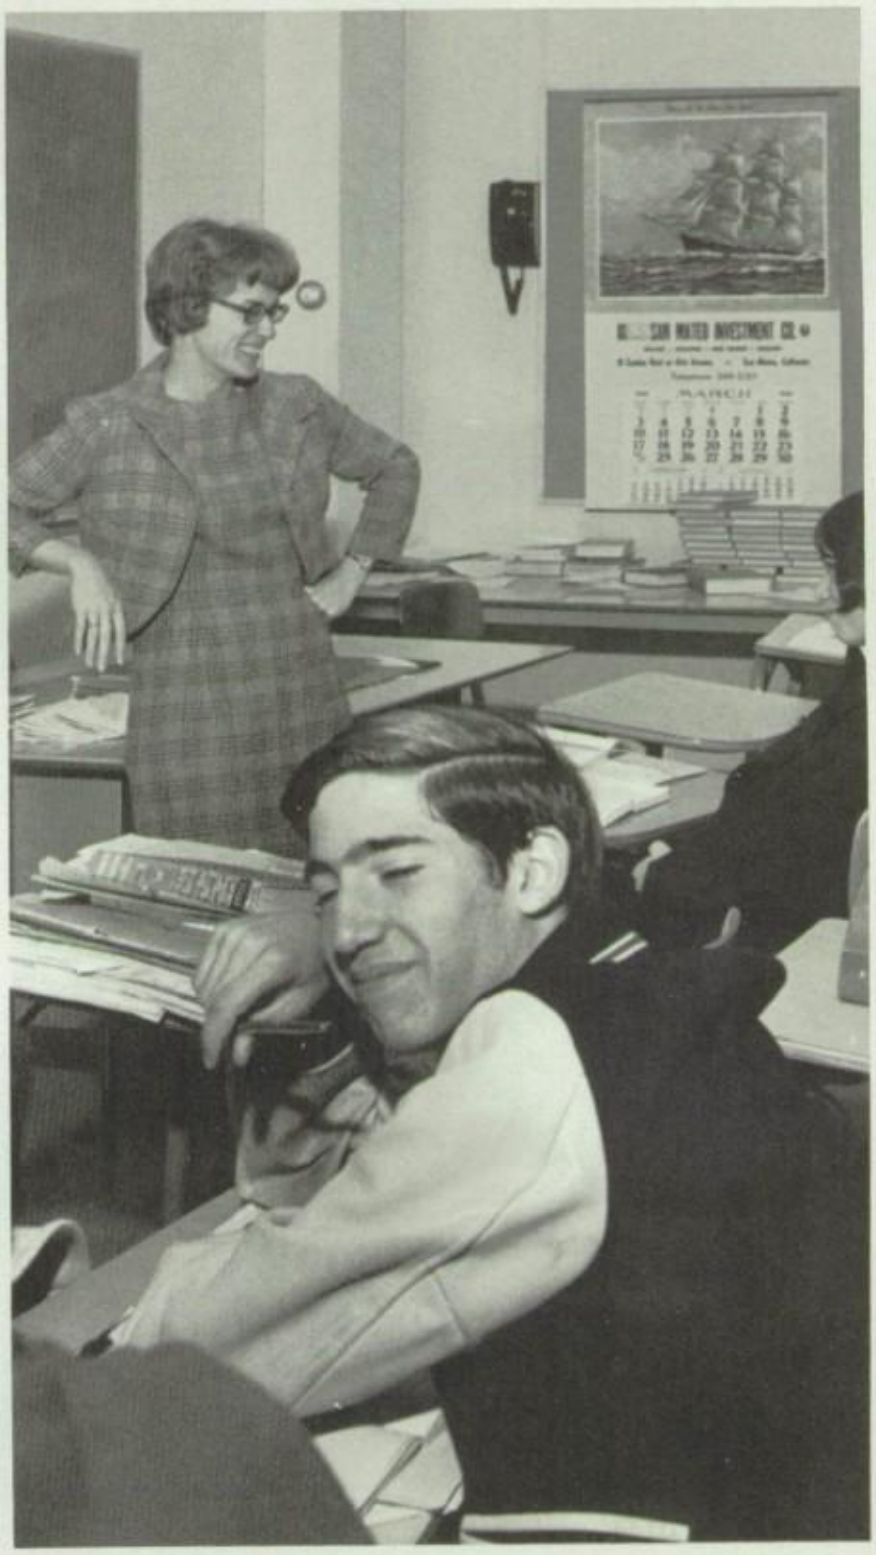


Right: And Mr. Bell reads to Mr. Shackleton, "See Jane run."

ROBERT PARKER-Univ. of Minnesota. Mr. Parker advises to "Live before you judge. If you can't love people, tolerate them." He feels Aragon has "Salubrious climate, friendly natives."
PAMELA RICKS-Washington State Univ., Tulsa Univ. Miss Ricks advises, "Be true to yourself."
ROBERT RITTENOUR-Ohio Wesleyan, Univ. of Michigan-According to Mr. Rittenour, "There is no excuse for bad manners!" He also finds that Aragon is, "Still the best."

JACK SHACKLETON-C.S.M., San Francisco State-Mr. Shackleton finds Aragon a, "Monolithic, charybdic creature who gobbles up all those who ape instead of shape."
LINDA TORKELSON-Willamette Univ., San Jose State, Miss Torkelson feels that, "If a task is worth doing, it's worth doing well."





Mr. Fisher giving his Freshmen "the look of love."
Right: A typical reaction to Miss Farquharson's attempt at humor.

Homemaking Teaches Techniques For Home

Karem Acker, Sue Brandau, and Karen Lust taste their own concoction.

The main objective of the Homemaking Department is to teach techniques the student can use at home. The courses offered include beginning and advanced courses in Clothing and Foods, Tailoring, and Senior Homemaking. The basics of cooking and sewing are taught along with nursing, nutrition, grooming and childcare.

Music Courses Open To All Who Wish To Participate

Through the curriculum set up by Mr. Denton and Mr. Revelli, the Music Department strives to add a special little something to an Aragon student's program.

Girls Glee and Intermediate Band are mainly preparation for more advanced work. Both are prerequisites for entering either A Capella or Advanced Band.

The A Capella, Madrigals and Orchestra give a concert at Christmas and one in the spring. The Intermediate Band also takes part in the Spring concert. The performing groups also enter the California Music Educators Festival competition in the Spring.

Ron DeMartini realizes he should have practiced.

Mr. Ben Denton-Arizona State University.
Mr. Elmer Revelli-San Francisco State.

California Scholarship Federation Honors

MATH AWARD WINNERS, l. to r.: Yul Inn, Sue Weinstein, Jeff Rosoff, Norm Gardner, Jan Hubbard, Larry Cretan, Kathy Daly, and Richy Wales.

Each year the California Scholarship Federation honors outstanding academic achievement by students in California high schools. At Aragon, this recognition takes the form of certificates of award presented in the fields of foreign language, mathematics, English, science, and the social sciences. A superior accolade is awarded to one member of the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes judged to have achieved the highest proficiency at his grade level. In the school year 1966-67, the superior award winners were, in foreign language: Paul Ortega, Nancy Armitage, and Terry Williams; math: Yul Inn, Norman Gardner, and Jeff Rosoff; English: Leslie Feder, Tim Reed, and Barnaby Feder; science: Ozzie Milican, Denis Clark, and Fred Klinger; and for social science: Leslie Feder, Bob Kane, and Larry Hyink. Two outstanding awards are also given in each of the above mentioned courses.

Outstanding Achievement By Aragonians

SOCIAL SCIENCE WINNERS, l. to r.: Row I, B. Feder, B. Kane, T. Cole, L. Hyink. Row 2, M. Raubitschek, L. Feder, K. Daly, A. Hipshman.

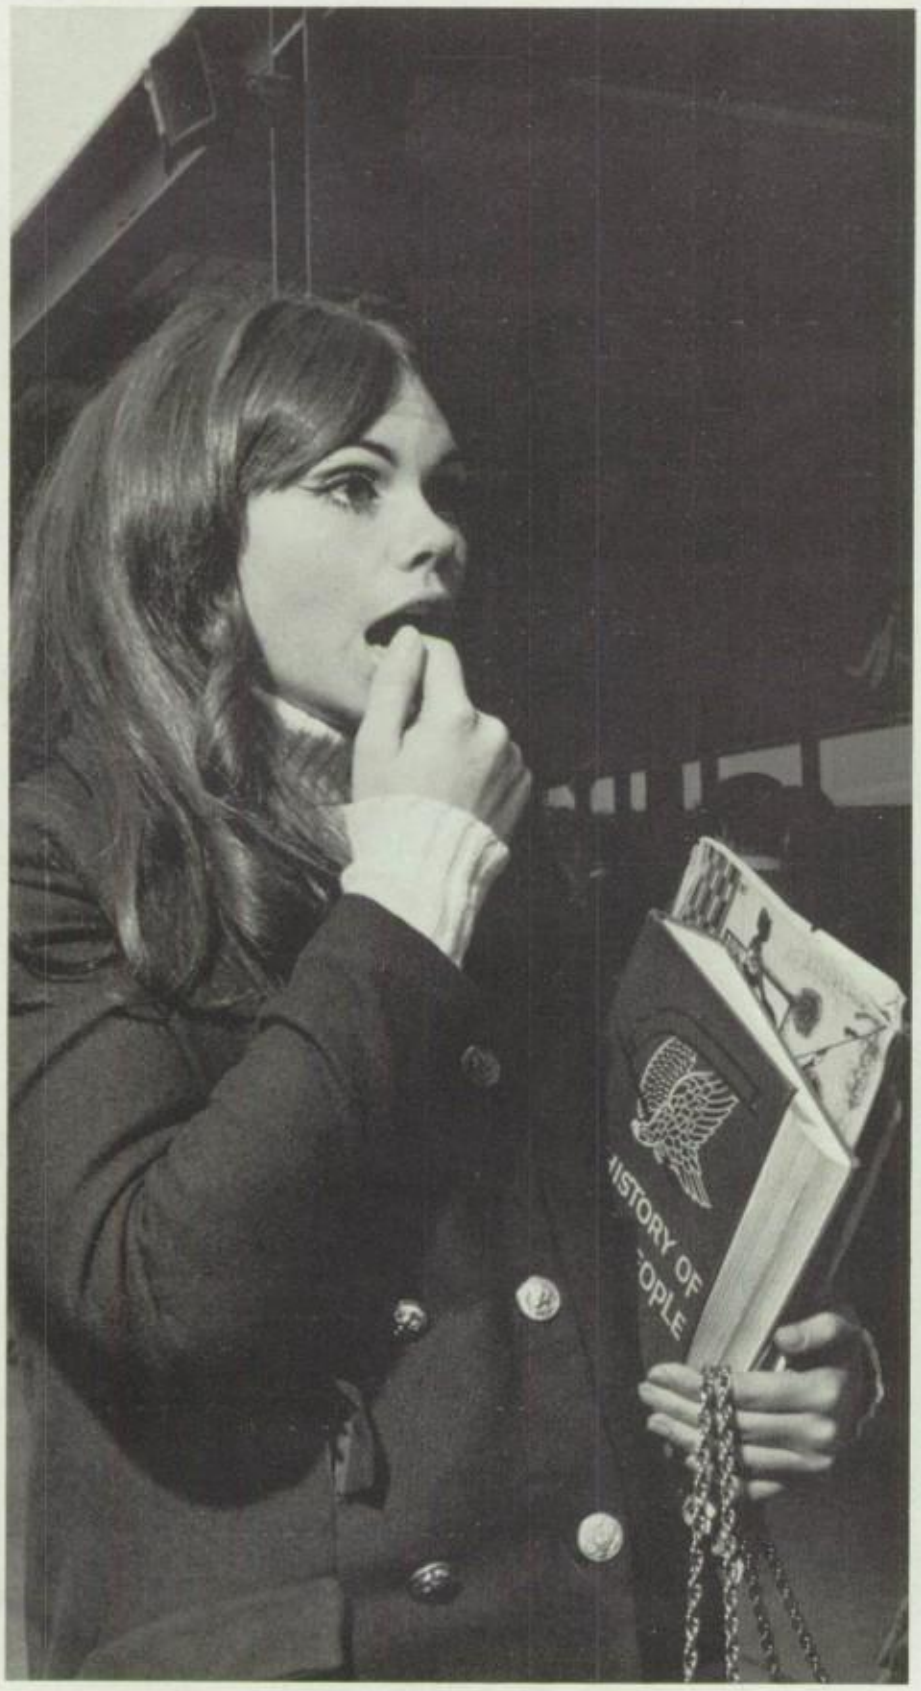
For Junior Class

Junior spirit was given a brilliant start with 128 dollars earned by the first Junior class sponsored activity of the year. The carwash held in the Aragon student parking lot on October 7 combined fun and work with the help of student advisor, Mr. Dunstan, and Junior class president, Steve Singleton, to bring about a very wet and successful day.

"It's a white tornado," screams Birdi Holmes, as she bites her finger.



Above: Debbie Ellison is ALWAYS getting into unusual predicaments; who knows how she will get out of this one!

Below-The world is in the hands of the JUNIORS!!!

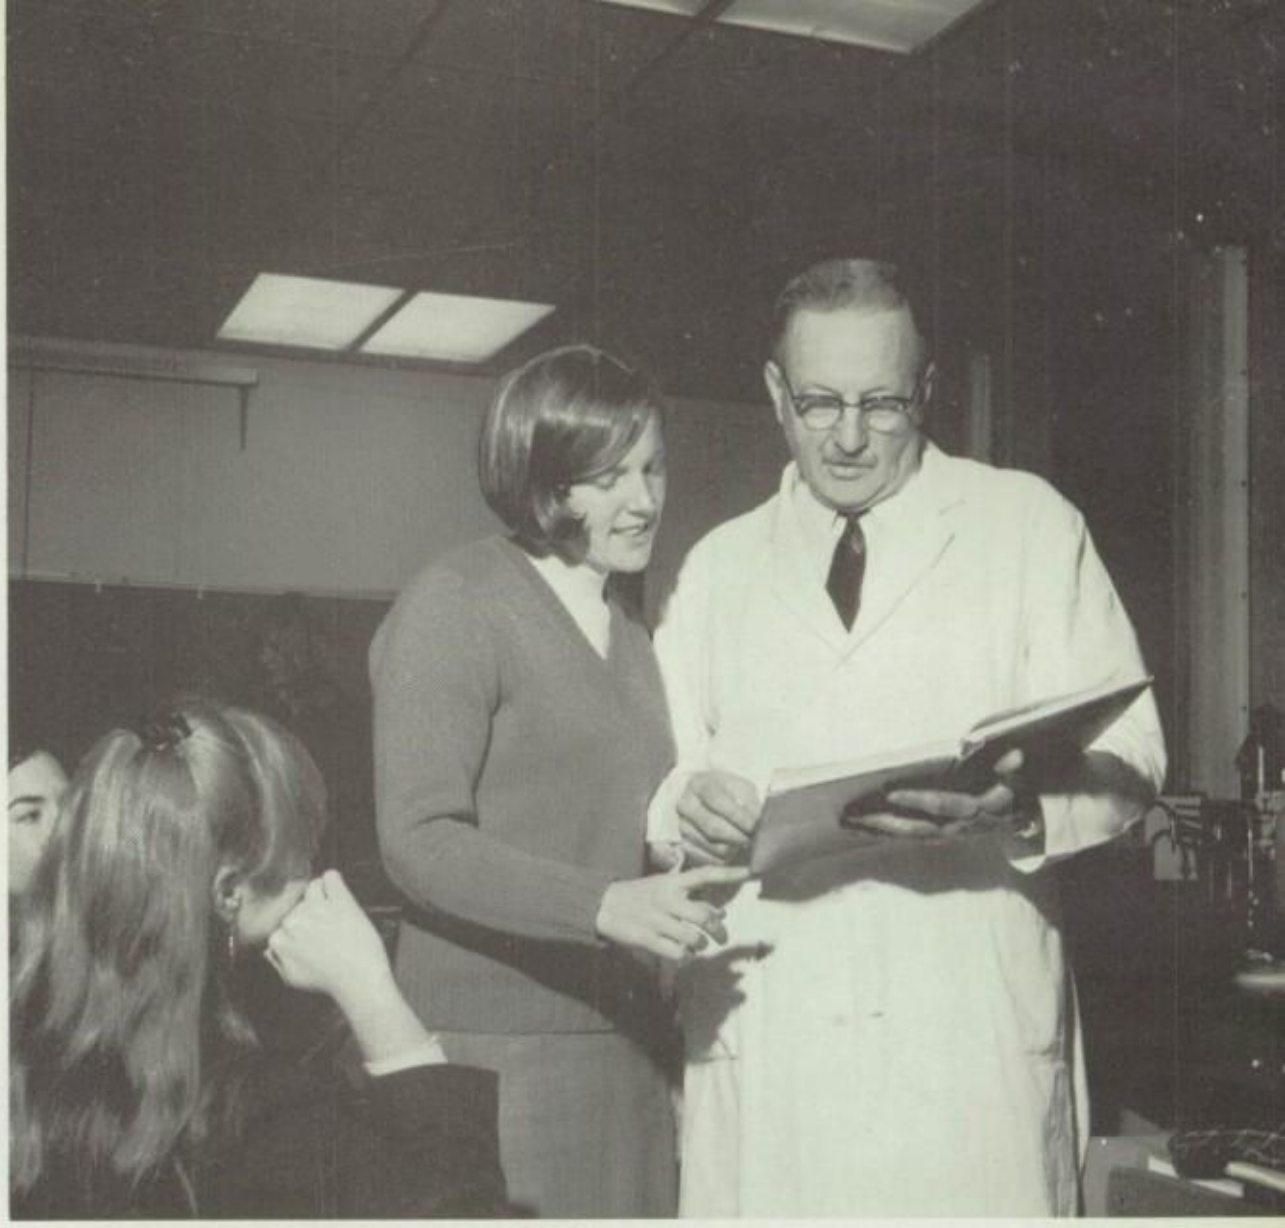
Dedication . . .
Mr. Carl Johnson

Unfolded in the previous pages have been the many worlds of Aragon High School. Perhaps the most important relationship at Aragon is that between students and teachers. Mr. Carl Johnson is one of the many teachers who has a sincere interest in each of his students.

Arriving at school early in the morning and not leaving until late in the afternoon, Mr. Johnson is always accessible to chemistry students who want help.

After serving as an officer in the U.S. Navy for many years, Mr. Johnson, decided to become a teacher. He has been at Aragon since its founding in 1961. He has given a great deal of himself to his students and will long be remembered as an exceptional man as well as an exceptional teacher.

It is with great pleasure that the yearbook staff dedicates the 1968 EL TESORO to Mr. Carl Johnson.



Acknowledgements

As editor-in-chief of the 1968 El Tesoro, I would like to thank the many dedicated people who helped make our book materialize and whose help we gratefully acknowledge.

Mr. Parker, our patient, hard-working, good-natured, advisor devoted much time and talent. Without him we would never have been able to keep track of pictures, pages, dates, and deadlines.

Our photographers -- Andy, Stuart, Eddie, Rob, Mike, Jim, and Mr. Herbinaux -- have spent many long and productive hours in the darkroom keeping us supplied with pictures.

Many thanks to Norton Pearl Photography Studios for their great patience and wonderful ideas.

Mr. Duncan of American Yearbook Company advised us in planning our book and in effectively executing our ideas.

Each year the faculty and students give us wonderful cooperation by arriving for pictures on time, allowing class interruptions, and by completing their write-ups.

A special thanks to our staff members -- Mary Barr, Kent Douglass, Molly Duff, Tom Hart, Erwin Heieck, Sue Parmenter, Tim Reed, Ilene Slavick, Lori Swalwell, and Robyn Turner--without them the editors would never have made it.

The editors of the 1968 El Tesoro really did a marvelous job while surviving the stress and strain of fun nights, upset pictures, unphotogenic people, and all sorts of obstacles that needed overcoming. Thanks -- Bruce Bendure, Student Government; Brian Douglass, Steve Singleton, Arlyne Charlip, Sports Editors; Helene Epstein, Classes; Vicki Palmer, Seniors; Susan Fay and Kris Pederson, Activities.

Les

I don't like to call you Lester, it sounds so bad, but we all have our faults. Have fun during the summer & I hope to see you next year.
